Confidence Vote Given Building Scheme By Board Today

Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce will hold special meetings on Sept. 23 and 30 to express themselves on the high school bond issue and the county water conservation bond issue. Recognizing the importance of these two projects, the board of directors of the chamber today called the special sessions so that the membership can hear the facts about both programs. The school meeting will be Sept. 23 and the water meeting Sept. 30 at the Green Cat cafe.

At a meeting in the chamber of commerce building this morning the directors gave the Santa Ana board of education a vote of confidence in respect to the high school building program. The vote, however, will leave the members free to adopt any position they wish. It was understood. Action on the water program was confined to calling the special meeting.

Indorsement Asked

Three members of the school board with School Superintendent Frank Henderson were present to outline reasons for the high school bond election. They suggested that in view of the brief time until the election on Sept. 26 they would need help in putting the matter before the people.

Mr. Henderson said that the chamber board recently had indorsed a recommendation for extending traffic arteries through the city, without referring the matter to the members. Several directors said they believed it would be better psychology to allow the members to commit themselves on the school and water issues. Howard I. Wood, secretary, explained that on the street matter there already had been considerable discussion and that sentiment of the membership was largely formed when the board acted.

Quake Damaged Buildings

The present high school building need resulted to the extent that the state urgently recommended on new buildings, Mr. Henderson said.

Rolla Hays, school board member, remarked that "you (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

HOLD MEXICO FETE HERE

Independence Day For Southern Republic Is Observed

A parade at 10 a. m. today launched celebration in Santa Ana of Mexico's independence day. It was on Sept. 16, 1810, that the southern country began its war for independence from Spain.

The parade started at the Southern Pacific depot. Featured in it was Miss Carlotta Zuniga, Huntington Beach, queen of the day's festivities. Miss Zuniga was accompanied by her six maids of honor, Miss Dora Garcia, Miss Carmen Ojeda, Miss Carmen Saldaña and Miss Beatrice Valencia of Santa Ana, and Miss Maria Perez and Miss Nicha Hernandez of Anaheim. A band directed by T. Dunstan Collins provided music.

An airplane piloted by Delfino Alcala of Costa Mesa, with Floyd Wright as co-pilot, flew over the demonstration.

The parade ended at the municipal hall after traveling along Fourth street. This afternoon games and entertainment were to be provided at the bowl. City and county officials were to attend.

At 8 p. m. a free dance is to be staged in the Knights of Pythias hall, it was announced by Lucas Lucio, master of ceremonies. Esteban Rodriguez is chairman of the committee in charge of today's events.

Last night a meeting attended by 1500 persons was held in the auditorium of the Frances Willard Junior High school, at which speakers told of Mexico's struggle for independence.

JEW SUFFER SETBACK BY HITLERITES

Right To Citizenry Is Denied; Marriage With Aryans Also Refused

BREMEN CASE CITED

Tearing Of Flag From Liner Seen As Cause For New Rulings

NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 16. (AP)—The reichstag of Adolf Hitler today relegated Jews in the Germany of the future to their position during the middle ages.

They may not become citizens, intermarry with Aryans, have intimate relations with Gentiles nor even employ Aryan servant girls under 45 years of age.

The third reich of the future, by unanimous decision of the 600 Hitler followers who make up the reichstag, will be one in which Aryan citizens who by their attitude indicate they are willing and fit to serve faithfully the people and the reich will be separated sharply from "belonging to the state."

Patriotic Fervor

Legislation embodying these points was passed last night amid scenes of unexampled patriotic fervor and approbation for the course Hitler has chosen to pursue strictly along the lines laid down in the original Nazi program.

These acts inspired Der Fuehrer's followers with the hope that the rest of the Nazi tenets would be translated into practical policies, step by step, just as fast as political expedience permitted.

Before hearing addresses by Hitler and General Wilhelm Goering, the reichstag itself gave a practical expression of its belief in the authority of Nazi principles.

It empowered Goering, as leader of the reichstag, to summon it into session at will until a new set of by-laws, embodying "leadership" principles, has been evolved and adopted.

The tearing of the swastika from the prow of the German liner Bremen in New York last month and the action of Magistrate Louis Brodsky in dismissing five defendants in the case were considered by observers to be a new set of by-laws.

HOTEL FIRE AT OGDEN KILLS 1

OGDEN, Utah, Sept. 16. (AP)—Peter Canavos, a restaurant owner, died, Mrs. Clayton Collins, 26, was critically burned, and several other persons received minor injuries today in a fire which damaged the National hotel, Ogden, a hostelry of boom days.

Junior hopped out of bed this morning without a murmur. "Why did he want to get up?" he reflected. "A circus? The beach?" "no." Then he remembered. "Whoopie! School starts today!"

Faces scrubbed and hair brushed slick, 2918 children enrolled this morning in elementary schools of Santa Ana. The two junior high schools numbered an enrollment of 1471. The high school had 1097, and the junior college 614, with more still registering. The total for the city was 7100, as compared with 6051 last year on the first day.

Little boys had fresh, clean trousers, and little girls wore new pressed gingham, with freshly pressed ribbons on their hair. Emma, who took her little boy to school, was embarrassed as she noticed that she'd left the price tag on his new shirt. As she reached down to pull it off, the teacher chuckled and said:

"Oh, that's all right. I had to do the same thing this morning on my smock."

Sharp Quake Is Felt Here This Morning

While Santa Ana was considering a $180,000 bond issue for replacing school buildings damaged by the earthquake of May, 1933, another tremor occurred today. The disturbance, quite pronounced, was felt at 4:30 a. m. A number of persons reported they were awakened by it.

No damage was caused by the quake. It also was reported as being felt at Anaheim. The 1933 quake occurred on March 10, resulting in serious damage to a number of public buildings and other structures.

5 NAMED TO HELP BONDS

Alex Brownridge Heads Group to Campaign For School Issue

Alex Brownridge will head a citizens committee of five to conduct a campaign on behalf of Santa Ana's $180,000 school bond election, which will be held a week from Thursday. Announcement of Mr. Brownridge's selection as chairman was made today by M. B. Youel, head of the board of education's publicity committee.

The other members of the committee, which will work jointly with members of the board of education in conducting the campaign, also were announced today by Mr. Youel as follows: Mrs. John Mills, president of the Santa Ana council of Parent-Teacher associations, O. H. Barr, J. C. Horton and James B. Tucker.

Mr. Brownridge has not set a date for the first meeting of the committee.

Col. V. Orange, Care of Santa Ana Journal, Santa Ana, California.

Dear Sir: I take it from your write-up in Saturday's issue of your paper that you expect an answer from me. Therefore, I will take a few minutes to answer your inquiry.

You ask three questions in one, so I will answer them the same way and the answers are YES—NO—NO.

First: Yes—I'll keep my word.

Second: No—I'll NOT work for the Prado dam.

Third: No—it'll not be embarrassing.

In the first place I do not believe you or anyone else can refer to any time or place that I agreed to work for the Prado dam as a condition that the supervisors agree to the four points referred to in Mr. Rainey's letter to the directors of the Orange County Water District, which was referred to the supervisors and accepted by them. All the supervisors understand perfectly that I am not now or ever have been in favor of the Prado dam.

It seems to me you have resorted to an old newspaper trick and made a statement, which if left unanswered, would give the public the impression that I accepted to the statement, which I certainly do not.

As you are a new arrival in our midst I will refer you to the conclusion of the original proposition made by the two water companies (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

FALL FASHION DISPLAY DUE THURSDAY

Stores Will Hold 'Open House' Here; Latest Styles to Be Seen

PROGRAMS PLANNED

Bands, Entertainment To Be Part of Festival During Evening

Santa Ana is set to go fall fashion conscious Thursday night when merchants throughout the city bring out the latest styles in fall colors to show at their autumn fashion show from 7 to 9:30 o'clock.

Stores will open their doors to accord an evening's hospitality to the city. Up and down the business streets, a band or other musical contingent is to parade. Windows will have displays of the latest fashions in ready-to-wear.

Sponsored by the retail merchants' division of the chamber of commerce, the style show has enlisted cooperation of store directors throughout the city. J. H. Bell, chairman of the division, appointed Walter Swanberger to head the promotion and publicity committee, assisted by Fred Newcomb.

Style Talks Planned

Radio announcements over KREG are spreading news of the event throughout the community. Beginning yesterday, 10 announcements a day are being given over the radio station.

Wednesday night at 7:15 o'clock style talks will be given over the local station. Mrs. Alice Peterson is to tell what note shoes will take this fall. Mr. Bell will scan the modes of women's frocks and millinery.

For more than a month, Mrs. Peterson has been working on the committee.

LONG FORCES HINT TRUCE

Leaders Plan Caucus To Salvage Remains Of Louisiana Kingdom

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 16. (AP)—Amid talk of a truce with the New Deal, the political heirs of the assassinated Huey P. Long laid plans today for a caucus to salvage all possible from his Louisiana dictatorship and national following.

Meanwhile, parish authorities renewed their up-to-now futile efforts to establish the exact circumstances of the death of the senator's slayer.

Renewal of the inquest gave Senator Long's bodyguards their fourth chance to tell how they poured nearly 60 bullets into the body of Dr. Carl A. Weiss, jr., after he shot Senator Long in the state house a week ago last night.

"No statements by anybody," Senator Long said as he entered the hospital in which he died little more than 30 hours later.

Thus far, the guards who cut Dr. Weiss down, most of them high-way policemen, have adhered to the literal meaning of that command, thrice ignoring the invitations of the parish coroner to appear at sessions of the inquest.

Today's session is the fourth. The coroner, Dr. Thomas A. Bird, and District Attorney John Fred Odom, both believed they could compel the guards to attend the inquest, but they were doubtful that they could compel them to testify.

ECONOMIC BOYCOTT ON ITALY REPORTED PLANNED

GENEVA, Sept. 16. (AP)—Reliable sources disclosed tonight that a preliminary plan for an economic boycott against Italy in case that nation should launch an unprovoked war are being worked out among certain members of the League of Nations.

This disclosure came after a day in the league assembly in which Poland had snubbed Soviet Russia—her delegates walking out on a speech by Maxim Litvinoff, Russian foreign commissar—and in which Panama, the Irish Free State and Haiti had warned the league it must prevent the conquest of a smaller nation by a larger.

Britain's Idea

The source in question said the British delegation had suggested the idea of a general economic blockade against Italy in case she attacks Ethiopia and that the plan for such a blockade had already been provisionally mapped.

The suggestion, regarded as a preliminary and precautionary project, was understood to be a sequel to the pledge given by Premier Laval of France that, if the worst came to the worst, France, loyal to the league covenant, would be disposed to participate in (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

STAMP TO MARK DAM'S FINISH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Postmaster General Farley announced today completion of Boulder dam in Nevada would be commemorated by a special three-cent postage stamp.

Governor Prevents First Hanging Of Woman In California History

COURT DENIES APPEAL

Plea For Case's Review Turned Down After Merriam's Action

LONG BEACH, Sept. 16. (AP)—Gov. Frank F. Merriam today issued an order commuting to a life term the death sentence of Mrs. Nellie M. Madison, who was to hang for the murder of her husband.

The action came as William J. F. Brown, Los Angeles attorney and former husband of Mrs. Madison, was preparing to appear before the state supreme court to seek a reopening of the case.

Had the sentence been carried out, she would have been the first woman to die on the gallows in California.

Mrs. Madison was convicted of shooting to death Eric Madison, film studio worker and her second husband, in their apartment in Burbank in March, 1934, and sentenced to hang next Oct. 4.

Throughout her trial she denied any knowledge of the slaying, but recently admitted from her cell in the women's state prison at Tehachapi she had killed Madison, but had shot in self-defense.

Gov. Merriam, in announcing the commutation order, made no statement disclosing why the action was taken.

Mrs. Madison's attorneys immediately advised her by telegraph that her life had been spared. She (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

Automobile accidents on Orange county's highways this week-end resulted in death to one, and injuries to 13 persons.

At 12:30 a. m. today, Ygnacio Chavez, 31, of Cypress street, Orange, was struck and fatally injured as he walked along Los Angeles street near Valencia street in Anaheim. He was struck by a car driven by Everett Berkey, 1119 Western avenue, Buena Park, and died en route to the county hospital.

Mr. Berkey told officers he did not see Mr. Chavez at all, and only became aware that he had struck the pedestrian when he felt the impact of the car hitting the man. The body was removed to the Backs, Terry and Campbell mortuary in Anaheim where an inquest is pending.

Three Cars In Accident
At 2 a. m. yesterday, when David Higuera, 22, of 110 South Artesia street, Santa Ana, was in the act of passing a milk truck, his steering apparatus broke and he lost control of the car, which turned over. Higuera sustained minor injuries. The accident occurred on West First street near Newhope avenue.

Head-on Collision
Fred Brinkman, 20, Costa Mesa, and Miss Ruby White, 20, Hotel Edgar, Santa Ana, suffered injuries at 9 p. m. yesterday when the car in which they were riding became involved in a head-on collision on Newport road in Costa Mesa. Mr. Brinkman and Miss White were passengers in a car driven by Miss Eleanor Edgar, 18, Hotel Edgar, which collided with a machine operated by Alvin W. Wagoner, 19, Newport Beach. Miss Edgar was in the act of passing a truck at the time of the collision.

Louis Rodriguez, 24, of 1214 East Third street, Santa Ana, suffered injuries at 3 a. m. yesterday when the car he was driving got out of control and turned over. The accident occurred on Manchester avenue near Buena Park.

Others Injured
An accident at Seventeenth and Main streets, Santa Ana, at 7:45 p. m. yesterday resulted in injury to Mrs. Margaret Esquibel, 32, of 1006 East Washington avenue, Santa Ana. Mrs. Esquibel was riding in a car driven by her husband, Jesus Esquibel, 30, which collided with a machine operated by Jess L. Campbell, 42, of 919 North Flower street, Santa Ana. Mrs. J. B. Romero, 35, of 1242 West Second street, Santa Ana, sustained injuries Saturday when the car in which she was riding collided here with a machine driven by Mrs. L. R. Kennedy, 729 South Ross street, Santa Ana. Mrs. Romero was a passenger in a car driven by Miss Cecilia Macias. The accident occurred at Birch and Second street.

Four in Car Hurt
A head-on collision late Saturday night in the 1600 block on West Fourth street resulted in injury to four occupants of one of the cars. chants have been choosing new styles to bring out for the fall revue. Wednesday, window decorators will begin their artistry, flooding show cases with the new in style circles. Until late Thursday the merchants expect to work, keeping their new fashions for a premier showing at the autumn festival.

Varied Programs
Varied programs are being planned by merchants of the city to entertain the public on that night. Every effort is being made to play host to patrons on that night. Salespersons will be on hand to display merchandise and, although the fete is planned purely to show the styles, stores will be able to serve customers. "Every store is planning some courtesy for the public that night," Mr. Swanberger said today. "Some of them are having musical programs, style parades, and novelty entertainment. Others are giving away souvenirs. But the merchants of Santa Ana want the city to realize that the public are their guests for that night," he concluded.

MORE ABOUT CHAMBER

all saw the schools in Long Beach and Compton in ruins after the earthquake. I don't believe you would want the board to continue using unsafe buildings for Santa Ana children."

The school bond issue proposed is for $150,000, with the expectation of a $145,000 outright grant from the Public Works administration. Members of the board said today that if the grant is not received, the bond money will not be used.

Alternatives Told
M. B. Youel, school board member, said there are several alternatives to be followed if the bonds do not carry, none of which is satisfactory in the minds of school board members. One of these would be to continue using the present structures. Another would be to erect cheap temporary buildings, and a third would be to impose a tax to raise money for replacing the high school structures one by one.

Mr. Henderson said there is a 23 cent margin on the tax rate available for building purposes. He reported that the outstanding bonded indebtedness in the high school district is $614,000, and that the district's limit for bond purposes is $1,355,000. Several years ago the district borrowed $500,000 from Green bill funds for rebuilding structures damaged by earthquakes. This money partially carried out the rebuilding program, and there is $32,000 left in the fund. The loan was used for a new auditorium building, library, study hall, administration offices, 17 class rooms and a shop building at the Lathrop Junior High school, Mr. Henderson said.

PWA Favor Indicated
Indications that the PWA looks with favor on the Santa Ana project were seen in Mr. Henderson's statement that on Saturday the PWA asked if it would be possible to start the building project Oct. 22. Because the program will have a low man-year cost of $834, it is said to be looked on favorably by the PWA.

In speaking about the alternative of erecting "shacks," Mr. Hays said they would be unsatisfactory from a health standpoint and that he believes the people of Santa Ana "would be up in arms" if the board carried out such a program. He recalled that in 1918 $26,000 was spent for such structures and that the people refused to allow their children to be housed in the temporary buildings.

George Wells, chairman of the school board, said it will cost the district $123,000 to complete the three necessary high school buildings and $57,000 to erect an auditorium at the Lathrop Junior High school. The balance of the money would come from the PWA grant, he said. It would cost about $16,000 a year at the beginning to amortize the bonds, making an initial increase of six cents and $100 of assessed valuation in the tax rate.

Urges Meeting First
Alex Brownridge, chamber director who is working on behalf of the school bonds, said he believed it would be better to call a membership meeting than for the board to endorse the program without referring it to the members.

Decision to hold another special meeting to discuss the water program was made without much discussion. Director W. E. Baker suggested the meeting. Members said that undoubtedly both sides of the issue would be presented, as both sides of the question probably are represented in the membership. The proposed county bond issue for the water program would be $6,620,000.

The Huntington Beach chamber of commerce was to meet at 1 p. m. today to express itself on the county water program.

collective economic and financial sections. It was stated that the project, as elaborated, partakes particularly of the nature of a commercial boycott under which the nations would pledge themselves neither to sell to nor buy anything from Italy.

Same As Boycott
Those close to the negotiations cautioned that the suggestive protective boycott should not be considered tantamount to an economic blockade since, it was explained, the word "blockade" immediately suggests the use of warships to enforce it.

Hopes for a peaceful outcome to the Italo-Ethiopian crisis were shrouded in gloom even though the five-power committee set up by the League of Nations council to deal with the dispute neared completion of its report.

While official spokesmen for the various delegations endeavoring to avoid outright admissions of failure in private conversations, French and British circles indicated the Italian cabinet communicate Saturday closed the door to any compromise.

ENGLISH FLEET BELIEVED OFF FOR WAR ZONE DRILLS

(Copyright, 1935, by Associated Press)
PORTLAND, Eng., Sept. 16.—The bulk of Great Britain's home fleet has disappeared from here on the eve of its scheduled maneuvers off Scotland. Although no officials would discuss the present location, the street talk is that these ships are steaming for the Mediterranean.

Previous admiralty announcements said the home fleet was assembling here in preparation for the autumn maneuvers, but tonight the visible supply of warships on hand appeared to consist of three battleships, one cruiser, 15 obsolete World War ships, and miscellaneous non-fighting and supply ships. The normal strength of the home fleet is about 50 fighting vessels.

The harbor roadstead swarmed with ships until late last week when, one by one, in pairs, or in larger units, they began to disappear. On Saturday night, five ships, led by the great battle cruiser Hood, steamed out immediately after the naval police had rounded up all sailors and officers in Portland and ordered them to board their ships.

furnished, in a measure, direct cause for enactment of the laws.

One law, effective immediately, proclaimed the swastika as the reich's national and commercial flag. Black, white and red were set as the reich's colors, with Der Fuehrer to designate the form of the reich war flag and the reich official flag.

Law Defines Citizens
A second law defined reich citizens, dividing Germans into members of the state, the protection of which they may enjoy, and citizens—of German or similar blood—who would be allowed to serve the reich and its people.

The citizen would be given a reich citizen letter making him the bearer of citizen privileges. The date for enforcement of the citizenship law was not immediately fixed.

A third law, entitled "protection of blood and honor," became effective today. It provided that marriages between Jews and Germans were forbidden, and such marriages contracted abroad were declared void.

The law provided further that Jews may not fly the German flag, but only the blue and white Zionist emblem.

The legislation concerning citizenship for Jews was considered by observers to go beyond anything that any nation has attempted in modern times.

Onion juice really blends and flavors better than chopped onions. To obtain the juice press a spoon against cut side of onion or press onion against a grater and the juice will drip through.

HAZING IS NEARLY FATAL Fire Crew Revives Initiate

BERKELEY, Sept. 16. (AP)—Thomas Dawson, 24, Pasadena, a junior at the University of California, was revived last night by a Berkeley fire department inhalator squad after allegedly having been exhausted by the rigors of his initiation into the Psi Upsilon fraternity.

Officer A. L. Coffey of the Berkeley police department ambulance squad reported he was called to the fraternity's house and found Dawson semi-conscious and gasping for breath.

Unable to revive the youth, Officer Coffey called the fire department. After half an hour's work, the firemen succeeded in bringing Dawson back to full consciousness.

Coffey said members of the fraternity told him they had compelled Dawson to "run around the hills back of Berkeley" as part of his initiation and that the youth had collapsed a few minutes after reaching the fraternity house.

George W. Sheran of Atlanta, Ga., who registered as the oldest Confederate veteran at the 45th reunion of the United Confederate Veterans at Amarillo, Texas. He said he was 99, but to show how spry he was, he did a jig to the tune of "Dixie" after he had arranged considered a meeting with rived from Washington. The vet-the G. A. R.

MORE ABOUT WALLOP

to the board of supervisors of the Orange County Flood District: CONCLUSION

"In this statement we express no opinion for or against the last proposed flood control plan. Our stockholders form their opinions for themselves about that matter, and as directors we take no position upon it. It is our duty as directors to protect the rights and interests of our stockholders. We have made careful study of the plan proposed with that duty alone in view, and our suggestions are deemed necessary for fair protection of the very great property rights involved. We consider that none of our stockholders can safely favor the plan unless the matters we have suggested are agreed upon."

However, I do not believe the average taxpayer is much interested in increasing his tax burden above what it has already been increased for 1935-36, without getting something definite in return. The supervisors employ a firm of certified public accountants to examine the 1935-36 budget and give me public a true and unbiased picture of just what they will pay in 1935-36 as compared with 1934-35. Trusting you will give this letter the same prominence which you gave your letter addressed to the writer, and assuring you that I am against any and all bonds under the present conditions, I remain

Yours truly,
WM. T. WALLOP.

EX-PUBLISHER DIES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16. (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Howard Ordway Hilton, founder and former publisher of the Rockford, Ill., Republican. Mr. Ordway, 73, who came here to live 15 years ago, died of pneumonia.

Vegetables in season are best—not only because they are cheaper but because their flavor and quality is better, having come to their prime naturally.

LOCAL CHAMBER WON'T 'DRINK'

The board of directors of the Santa Ana chamber of commerce went right up to the United States chamber of commerce "watering trough" today, but they didn't quite take a drink.

Some months ago the local chamber withdrew from the national body. Overtures for a return to the fold were made recently. Today the matter was shoved into the limelight again at a special meeting of the board. Several members and Howard I. Wood, secretary, said they favored rejoining the national chamber.

But no one made a motion for action. The meeting adjourned with the matter still open for discussion.

The local chamber withdrew last February, some time after a speech by a United States chamber representative, scoring President Roosevelt's policies. It was explained that the national body could commit the local organization to policy matters without these questions being referred to the Santa Ana body.

Santa Anans' Parents Will Celebrate Golden Wedding

MR. AND MRS. COKER F. RATHBONE

Coker F. Rathbone, well-known Taft attorney and legal editor of the Daily Midway Driller, will celebrate, with Mrs. Rathbone, his fiftieth wedding anniversary tomorrow. Due to circumstances, the actual celebration of the golden anniversary will be postponed to Sunday, Sept. 22, when a dinner will be served for members of the family at the Santa Ana home of a son, Coker F. Rathbone, Jr.

Coker F. Rathbone and Anna Belle Alford were married in Grundy Center, Iowa, Sept. 17, 1885, and have resided in Taft for the past 10 years. Mr. Rathbone is now a practicing attorney in Taft, was a newspaper man for many years in the old days, until 1917.

He operated weekly newspapers in Eureka, Utah, where he established the Tintic Miner; Lander, Wyo., where he formed the Fremont County Gazette; Cody, Wyo., where he established the Cody News. Later moved to Meeteetse, Wyo., and named the Big Horn County News, and later at Roman, Mont., where he operated the Roman Pioneer.

Descendants of the celebrants, all of whom will be present at Santa Ana Sept. 22, are four children: John D. Rathbone, Taft; Coker F. Rathbone and Mrs. Vada Berry, both of Santa Ana, and Mrs. F. G. Ashton, Los Angeles, as well as seven grandchildren.

The Port Of Missing Men

The following names of missing persons are furnished The Journal through the courtesy of the bureau of identification at the sheriff's office.

Paragraphs:

Here's the very newest development in the Jews-in-Olympics controversy. The world congress of the Jewish Sports federation, meeting in Drumn, Czechoslovakia, today, passed a resolution asking national Olympic committees to release Jews from participation in the Berlin Olympiad next year. The resolution, proposed because of Nazi treatment of Jews in Germany, was passed unanimously with the German representative alone abstaining. It seems to us that many would be interested in comment from Art Cohn, of the P. T. in Long Beach, one of the few good Jewish sports writers.

They may be over it by now, but for a while at least entrants in the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament in Los Angeles were peeved. At the opening of the day, the movie stars, as is often their wont, stole the show right from under the net stars' racquets, so to speak. First, Screen Star Gilbert Roland won a match and then Connie Bennett rewarded his victory with a kiss. Since it is estimated Connie receives about $150,000 a picture and gives on the average of two kisses per picture, wise acres figure that the smack was worth $75,000 and that Roland had deliberately if pleasureably professionalized himself. Amateur rules specify that any gift worth more than $35 taken as a victory token by a winner makes him a professional.

The Pacific Coast league will have a new president next year, but it won't be our friend John (Yours Confidentially) Connolly, dean of Pacific coast baseball scribes. Connolly, who has often been highly favored to replace Hy Baggerly next year, has taken Mark Kelly's Examiner sports editing job and has dropped from the Coast league race. Kelly goes to Hollywood and a fat contract with a studio.

Short stuff: Jimmy Braddock is getting along as a champ... he collects a grand for every exhibition... yes, no matter how poor... Golf goes nuts-totsy: The Ryder cup team for 1935 is going to be the best dressed gang ever to represent the U. S. at a golf tournament. Look: Brown gabardine sports jackets, light tan slacks, silk golfing shirts, brown and white shoes and matching ties... Thy this on your afternoon off: In New Jersey Mrs. Edward Stutz drove over a 20-foot apple tree... the ball landed right feet from the cup and rolled in for an ace... Cheap fun: Billy Southworth, a Piedmont league manager, was fined ten bucks for tossing sand down an umpire's back.

Biggest defeat of the year for the second guessers, aside from the Baer-Braddock thing, is in the present Star-Oiler nightball series. And we're right up there among those taking a beating in this. At the half we predicted the Stars would lose the second game, come back and win the play-off. Later we doubted—and made the mistake of putting it in print—if the Stars could overcome Joe Rodgers and his 1934 champs. Everyone in town except Manager Tom Denney was singing the blues. Denney was in the dumps for a while and then brightened up, drove his team on to victory.

Wagerin' Willie, our official guesser, picks the Stars to continue their winning streak at the Oiler's expense today and come up with the National league title.

HIPPS TO MEET HERRERA AGAIN

Sailor Hipps and "Fighting" Frankie Herrera, the new Mexican light-heavyweight sensation from Los Alamitos, today were signed for a four-round match for Thursday night at the Orange County Athletic club.

Herrera and Hipps turned in a sensational fight Thursday night with the Mexican coming from behind to whale the daylighters out of the navy scrapper in the final session, but losing the decision.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By the Associated Press

HANK LEIBER, Giants—Batted in three runs and scored three in victory over Cardinals, hitting homer and single.

DUSTY COOKE, Red Sox—Hit double and walk, both with bases full, sent in four runs against Browns.

PAUL DERRINGER and JIM BOTTOMLEY, Reds—Derringer blanked Boston with four hits in first game, Bottomley's pinch hit in ninth inning won second.

JOHNNY MURPHY, Yankees—Checked Tigers as relief pitcher, drove in tying run with double and scored winning tally.

BILL LEE, Cubs—Limited Dodgers to six hits and fanned six.

ED PHILLIPS, Indians—Knocked in six runs with three doubles and single in first victory over Senators.

RALPH BIRKOFER, Pirates—Scattered eight Philly hits for 5-3 victory.

MARTY HOPKINS, White Sox—Hopkins batted in four runs in first game; Higgins made four hits in second, and won it with tenth-inning homer.

THE CRYING TOWEL—

COACH BERNIE BIERMAN of Minnesota laments the loss by graduation of 17 lettermen from the 1934 gopher squad that won the Big Ten grid title. He says such men as Lund, Kostka, Bevan, Larson, Tenner and Bengston "can hardly be replaced."

DUSEK-WASHBURN BATTLE 'WIDE OPEN'

Star-Oiler Umpires Are Named by Wentz

Bill Affleck, popular one-armed official from Los Angeles; Stewart (Shorty) Smith, Brea, and Joe Harless, Santa Ana, will be sought as umpires for the Santa Ana-Huntington Beach nightball game for the National league championship here tomorrow night. President Walter Wentz of Garden Grove discounted reports that he planned to import American league talent to officiate in the seventh and deciding struggle. All three of the arbiters he has tentatively signed have been service in the National league.

Harless, who has just returned from a fishing trip, is a Santa Ana man, but Huntington Beach considers him an impartial umpire, one of the fairest in the circuit. President Wentz wants Harless to call 'em at first base. Affleck, who officiated a few times during the second half, probably will be stationed in back of the log, and Smith will be at third.

Whether Santa Ana or Huntington Beach will be the "home club" will not be decided until just before game time at the Municipal bowl, 8:15 p. m.

DEMPSEY SAYS MAX NEEDS MORE STEAM FOR LOUIS

SPECULATOR, N. Y., Sept. 16.

Jack Dempsey, always a rooster for Max Baer, is of the opinion the former butcher boy is in shape to absorb plenty of punishment, but that he would have to improve on his showing of yesterday if he would defeat Joe Louis.

Max, apparently in one of his periods of lassitude, boxed six rounds yesterday as Dempsey and others looked on. In contrast to his savage punching of the day before, however, Baer had little steam in his punches and seemed content to box with Paul Pross, Willie McGee, George Turner and Lou Scozza. Several thousand fans went away disappointed.

LANGFORD PRAISES

LOUIS AT RINGSIDE

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Sept. 16. (AP)—Joe Louis' stock had taken another rise today.

He pummeled his sparring partners yesterday as some wise old eyes looked on, and they proclaimed him a great heavyweight.

One of the onlookers was Sam Langford, the grizzled old "Tar Baby" of better days. Sam can't see so well. One eye was permanently dimmed by a right-hand punch of Fred Fulton, and the other isn't so clear. But he saw enough of the panther-like bomber, who keeps weaving in, to convince him that his race had produced another great one.

"He's just too much for Mr. Baer," said the broad-beamed Langford.

FROSH STARS PRESS DON FOOTBALL LETTERMEN

Santa Ana Junior college's football ranks include eight monogram-wearers, yet so stiff is the competition among the Dons that only a single letterman—Fullback Walter Hickman—may land on the starting eleven to be chosen from a squad of more than 50 aspirants.

Bruce Harnois, diminutive safety veteran who was to report to Bill Cook today, will have a terrific time holding down the No. 1 spot in competition with Joe Herbert, Fullerton's two-year backfield star; Oliver McCarter, all-County league quarter from Orange; and Frank Ochoa, ex-Anaheim regular.

Moore May Develop—Veterans Dick Moore, Ralph Comstock and Major Anderson should land easy on the second string. With the hard-driving Moore conceded the best chance of advancing to the first aggregation.

Fred Lentz, stocky fullback from Orange; John Lehnhardt, blocking halfback from Garden Grove; Dave Phoenix, Newport Harbor star; and Byron Nori will press their teammates for the No. 1 and 2 backfield spots.

Nelson Rodgers and Charley Roemer, hold-over tackles, may be shoved into the background by such outstanding preps as John Meyers, Anaheim husky; Art Craft, sturdy 175-pounder from Orange; Jack Devine, Garden Grove's six-foot contribution; Clarence Bolton, 6-2 giant from the '32 Saints; and Fred Pinkston, Don reserve with lots of fight.

Letterman Harold Young leads the weight of Santa Ana at Garden Grove and Bob Spray of Tustin, incoming preps, but with experience in his favor, the Santa Ana boy may remain as first string center. Walt Durham, the 180-pounder from Comanche, Tex., has not been in suit for the past three drills.

The Dons will have a fair supply of guards in Dick DeSmet, all-Coast league from the '34 Saints; Howard Rash, regular on the '32 Saints; and Hal Mosiman and Les Minder, Anaheim regulars.

Freshmen at End—The wing positions will be filled by freshmen unless Fred Erdhaus, tall reserve who was injured most of last season, pulls a surprise.

COAST LEAGUE IN LAST WEEK

(By the Associated Press)

With a three-and-a-half game lead looking more secure in the tight second-half Coast league pennant race, the San Francisco Seals turn into the last week of play today, odds-on favorites to win the right to oppose Los Angeles in a play-off for the season crown.

The Seals displayed championship form last week to trounce the sixth-place Oakland Oaks five games out of seven and pull another notch ahead of the San Francisco Missions and the Portland Beavers, both going strong in third and second place.

The Seals ended the series by splitting yesterday's double-header, dropping the first game, 1-2 and winning the second 5-2.

Customers at the double bill between the Missions and Seattle were treated to the season's biggest baitfest as the Indians won the opener, 1-1 to 4. Then the Missions retaliated, batting clear around twice in the first inning of the second game to score 14 runs. They added four more for an 18-3 win.

Los Angeles trounced Portland, 13 to 4, but dropped the second, 1-2 in the face of Dick Shultz's four-hit flinging.

SANTA ANA, ORANGE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1935

PREP ELEVEN TO PLAY IN AFTERNOON

Junior College Starters For After-Dinner Tilt Uncertain, Cook Says

Football, the favorite sport of millions, will make its 1935 bow to Santa Ana's sporting public Friday.

Down at Poly field in the afternoon, Coach's Bill Foote and Reece Greene will unfold Santa Ana High school's latest pigskin edition in a brush with Stewart White's Orange Panthers, one of the better teams of the County Prep league.

Pasadena Bulldogs Here

Inside the Municipal bowl Friday night, Coaches Bill Cook and Alvin Rebohn will parade their Santa Ana Junior college against Pasadena's Bulldogs, at 8 o'clock. There are more than 50 Dons in suit, and virtually all of them will be called upon to "show their stuff," Cook said.

Raiders who have followed the preps in their past few sessions, including the two-hour dummy scrimmage with the Dons last Friday, believe they can name the 11 boys Skipper Foote will nominate to open the Orange tussle.

Only the next four drills, including a spirited workout today, will determine the junior college's lineup for its conflict with Pasadena. Walt Hickman, eastern all-conference backfield ace, probably will be at fullback; and Harless, probably will be at center because he knows the signals better than his heavier freshman competitors—Sam Bragg of Garden Grove, Bob Spray of Tustin. The other nine starters will be selected on the strength of performances in inter-squad scrimmages this week.

Saint Regulars Named

The high school's tentative lineup:

Ends—Capt. Erwin Youel and Hal Short.

Tackles—Bob Reid and Jim (Red) Crowther.

Guards—Lyle Moyer and Joe Crawford.

Quarterback—Leonard Stafford.

Right half—Warren (Whitey) Mann.

Fullback—Bill Musick.

These Saints, barring injuries and other bad breaks, should develop into a power in the Coast Preparatory league. They appear to have all the qualifications. The greatest task confronting Foote and Greene will be the development of better reserve strength from a 40-boy roster comprised mainly of "greenies."

Quarter Back Beall, Halfback Lester Beck and Fullback Bob Dunning may break up the present Stafford-Joy-Mann-Musick combination in the backfield.

While Santa Ana's preps are engaged in their game at Poly field, one of their most dangerous Coast Preparatory league rivals, Long Beach's Jackrabbits, will be playing at Hollywood.

HIGH-LOW GOLF QUEENS NAMED

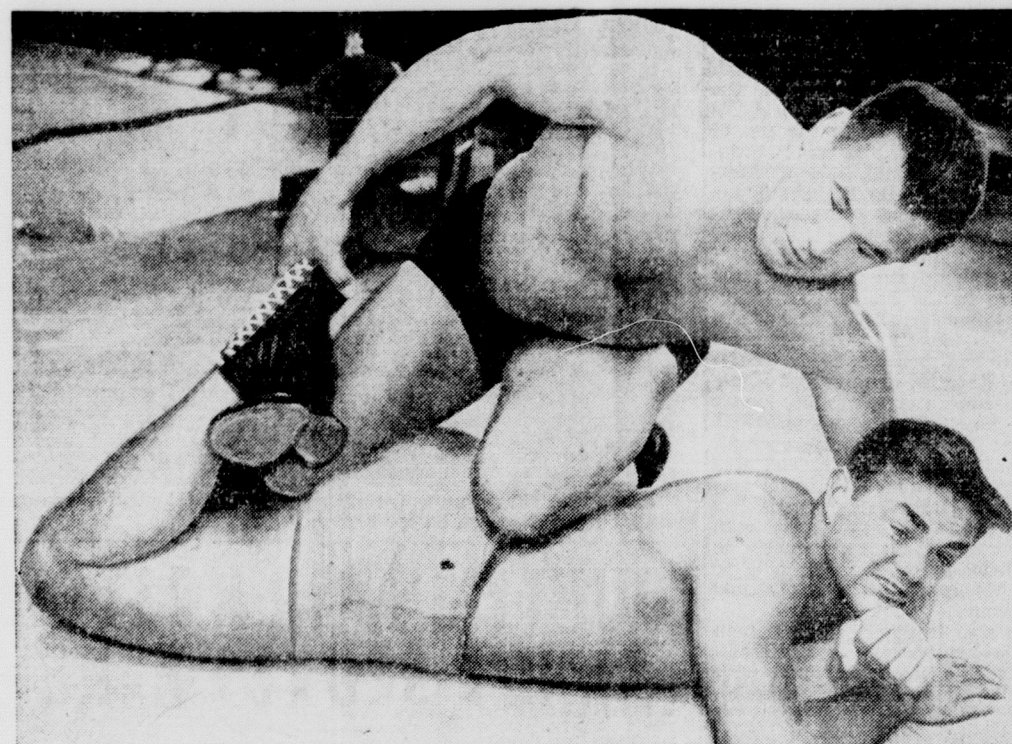

Mrs. Paul Hall and Mrs. Jack Colburn were being congratulated today upon their victory in the finals of the high-low golf tournament for ladies at the Santa Ana Country club.

The new champions edged out Mrs. Harry Bakre and Mrs. Roy Langley, 1 up, over the week-end, after winning from Mrs. J. L. McFadden and Mrs. B. W. McClure, 2 and 1. Mrs. Bakre and Mrs. Langley reached the final bracket by eliminating Mrs. C. V. Dody and Mrs. B. J. MacMullen, 1 up.

The defeated flight of the same tourney advanced past the quarter-finals, with Mrs. H. H. Harwood and Mrs. N. W. Miller defeating Mrs. R. G. Cartwright and Miss Lu Pomeroy, 3 and 2; and Mrs. J. J. Bushard and Mrs. W. F. Kistinger trimming Mrs. J. K. McDonald and Mrs. H. W. Overmier, 1 up. The team of Mrs. Don Andrews and Mrs. E. H. Guthrie drew a bye, as did the combination of Mrs. Osman Pixley and Miss Nan Mead.

R. O. Winkler and R. A. Emison, carding a 76-97, scored a narrow victory in best ball sweepstakes Saturday. Other scores: A. W. Robinson and B. V. Curry, 73-58; F. E. Farnsworth and Lew Wallace, 78-108; Ben Osterman and Roy Langley, 79-118; and L. D. Coffing and C. W. Jordan, 76-88.

PARDON ME IF I SEEM TO BREAK YOUR LEG!

Exponent of all things vile in wrestling, Doity Oiny Dusek, who takes on ex-Policeman Jack Washburn in the main event here tonight, demonstrates his work on Al Tafruff. Dusek, the Omaha scourge, frightens ladies and children and even makes strong men stutter, but he wins wrestling matches, which is more important. Last week he planted a foot in Nick Lutz's middle and sent that gentleman out among the clients to win his battle.

PIGSKIN PREVIEW

Yale's New Deal Turns Alphabetical

By LOUIS G. BLACK

(This is another of a series of stories dealing with football prospects of major colleges and conferences.)

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 16. (AP)—The "new deal" in Yale football, inaugurated so successfully under Head Coach Raymond W. (Ducky) Pond last season, has reached the alphabetic stage.

The curly-haired leader of the Blue believes Yale's 1935 football fortunes depend on the manner in which the "L" men respond to the coaching. Pond especially is concerned about the development of a couple of "G" men, a good "C" man and a capable "T" man. His "B" men are "O. K.," says Pond, beaming over his backfield material.

What the square-jawed Yale coach meant was that the middle of his line is the weak spot in the Yale gridiron pattern and the situation promises to be acute unless two guards, a center and a tackle can be developed to face the Elis' opponents on fairly even terms. An abundance of backfield veterans is the only cheerful note in an otherwise gloomy picture.

"Iron Men" Are Gone—Pond bases his pessimism on the loss of six of the "iron men" who were prominent last year as the Blue upheld Princeton and eluded its campaign in triumph over Harvard to annex the "Big Three" honors.

In all, Pond lost 13 "Y" men including Strat Morton and Stan Fuller, backs; Jim DeAngelis, center; Captain Clare Curtin and Ben Grosscup, guards, and Meredith Scott, tackle. Pond's main task is to replace Curtin, Grosscup and DeAngelis.

The Yale coach said that although spring football practice failed to disclose anything spectacular, he did have a glimpse of some "interesting freshmen."

As a foundation, Pond has Captain Kim Whitehead, Jerry Roscoe, Bernie Rankin, Tom Curtin and Bob Schultz, veteran backs; Larry Kelley and Bob Train, regular ends; Henry Wright, varsity tackle and two other lettermen—Webb Davis, the outstanding guard candidate, and John Hershey, end.

Sophs for Reserves—There's no doubt in Pond's mind that his replacements must come from last year's freshman eleven. Among those whom the former Yale football and baseball star has labeled as promising are:

Dave Colwell, a back who may be converted to a center; Bill

Dickens, John Castle and John Snively, guards; Dan Peterson, tackle; Charlie Ewart, Clint Frank, Al Hessberg, backs, and Kevin Rafferty, son of a former Yale gridiron captain, end.

Depends on Roscoe—A great deal depends on whether Roscoe, cool-headed quarterback and the throwing end of the Roscoe-Kelley forward pass combination, and Captain Whitehead have recovered fully from appendix operations. Roscoe was laid up during the spring practice while Whitehead underwent an operation several weeks ago, and is virtually certain to be kept out of the opening game against New Hampshire October 5.

Pond plans hardly any changes in the team's offense, which indicates that Yale's opponents will see plenty of passes.

Sixty-nine candidates were invited to participate in the pre-season workout at Gales Ferry, the crew headquarters on the Thames river.

The Yale schedule: Oct. 5, New Hampshire; Oct. 12, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Oct. 19, Navy; Oct. 26, Army; Nov. 2, Dartmouth; Nov. 9, Brown; Nov. 16, open; Nov. 23, Harvard at Cambridge, Mass.; Nov. 30, Princeton.

pitched two-hit ball up to the sixth, when Joe Medwick hit for the circuit, then eased up and gave two runs in the eighth after New York had scored its last two.

The Cards had scant consolation in the fact that the attendance of 41,284 set a St. Louis record for a single regular-season game.

Four Brooklyn errors, plus Bill Lee's six-hit flinging made it easy for the Cubs to increase their lead with a 6 to 3 victory over the Dodgers.

Gus Shur, Pittsburgh first baseman, equaled the National league endurance record of 618 games, established by Eddie Brown of Boston, when he played one inning in a 5 to 3 victory over the Phillies. He still trailed the American league "Iron Man" Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, who took part in 1640 of his continuous stretch and helped beat the league-leading Tigers, 8 to 7.

Bill Terry's wrecking crew apparently proved that its pennant aspirations still were sound when, after losing the first game to the Cards and Dizzy Dean, they came back to win with three in a row, including two extra-inning encounters.

They routed Dizzy Dean, who had won the first game handily, and hammered out a 7 to 3 victory with a 16-hit attack that rocked three pitchers. Carl Hubbell

Stanford star, by Elmer Griffin, a public courts player, 0-6, 8-6, 6-1. Law put Menzel out of the championship in an early round a year ago.

Others who met unexpected reverses were Mel Gallagher, Salt Lake City, Rocky Mountain champion, who was beaten by a little known player, E. D. Yoeman, 6-2, 7-5; John Murio, city champion of San Francisco, who lost to the national junior boys' title holder, Bobby Riggs, 0-6, Los Angeles, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3; and Phil Neer, San Francisco, eliminated by Gerald Bantosh, Los Angeles, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Four Upsets—Yesterday's open play in the men's singles bracket resulted in the surprising defeat of four players. The biggest of these was the elimination of John Law, former

NO HOLDS TO BE BARRED TONIGHT

Former Policeman Knows How To Handle Tough Ones; Kudo on Card

By FRANK ROGERS

The boys play cop and robber at the Orange county athletic club's weekly rassin' show tonight.

Jack Washburn, a burly 250-pounder portrays the strong arm of the law and as such will attempt to run down Doity Oiny Dusek, Wrestling Enemy No. 1. Where others—such as Nick Lutz last week—have tried and failed, Mr. Washburn hopes to succeed not only because he will have the advocates of righteousness with him but because he really was a policeman before he turned to bone-bending. He knows what to do with tough guys.

Dusek, who is making his second consecutive appearance in the main event spot of Sam Sampson's performance only smiles and twitches an inch-thick ear when he thinks of what he is planning to do to Washburn. Last Monday night Dusek defeated Nick Lutz when he kicked him out among the spectators, climaxing a turbulent battle. Few have conquered Doity Oiny and even State Champion Vincent Lopez had to toss the Omaha Ogre out of the ring to dispose of him.

My, What Rules!

Rules of tonight's game have been fixed at "no holds barred" by Promoter Sampson. They may even let the bars down a bit farther and include the strangle hold among the punishments to be condoned. If so, practically the only work the referee will have will be to raise the winner's hand and hold the loser's head.

Paul Boesch, iron-fisted idol of the Jewish boys, makes his first appearance here against Ivan Managoff, terrible Russian in the semi-windup. Boesch seems to be headed for wrestling heights and has an enthusiastic following in other arenas. At the local arena, where the fans like 'em tough and ambitious, some are predicting Boesch will be a headliner in a couple of weeks or so. This bout will go one-hour, two out of three falls; preliminaries generally are but a half hour long.

Kudo Meets Grubbs—Kiman Kudo, Japanese sensation, comes back after a long absence to take on and undoubtedly put down so-called "Wild Bill" Grubbs in the second hour. Kudo has fought Dusek here with the greatest of ease, losing only when the nasty one cut loose with some of his villainous tricks.

Fred (Roughhouse) Carone takes on Tiger Nelson in the opener.

Wetherell Faces Stern Tests In L. A. Tennis

Lewis Wetherell, Santa Ana's young tennis sensation, aims high in the Pacific Southwest tennis championships in Los Angeles tomorrow.

He has drawn A. Martin, Legacy of France, fourth-seeded foreign star, in single, and will team with Bob Vandenberg of Riverside in men's doubles against the formidable combination of Enrique Maier of Spain, three-seeded foreign ace, and Francis Shields of America. No time has been set for these matches.

Miss Josephine Cruickshank and Miss Marjorie Lauderbach of Santa Ana were to play in women's singles matches today. Wetherell advanced yesterday through default from Alan Harrington. He defeated Harry Dildine, 6-0, 6-1, Saturday.

MOONEY CASE TO RE-OPEN TUESDAY

Hearing Is Ordered By High Court; Referee To Hear Testimony

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16. (AP)—Thomas J. Mooney's 19-year battle for freedom will reach a new climax tomorrow in an extraordinary proceeding ordered by the California state supreme court.

A. E. Shaw, veteran San Francisco attorney, who never has handled a criminal case or had anything whatever to do with the Mooney case, has been appointed referee to take testimony on Mooney's application for a writ of habeas corpus, through which he seeks his freedom on the grounds the testimony convicting him of the Preparedness parade bombing here in 1916 was perjured.

Ten persons were killed and 40 injured in explosion of a bomb on a street corner near the Embarcadero where the parade was starting up Market street, Mooney and Warren K. Billings were jointly convicted of murder, and are serving life sentences.

Referee Shaw is not expected to make any recommendations. Chief Justice William H. Wente has pointed out that the justices did not ask him for any recommendation, and that the purpose of naming a referee was to avoid involving the court in taking of testimony over a long period to the exclusion of all other business.

The court has set forth three issues for the hearing: 1. Whether any witness who testified against Mooney at his trial committed perjury or testified to fact they did not believe true.

2. Whether, if perjury was committed, the prosecuting attorney or any of his assistants was or were aware of it.

3. Whether the prosecution "willfully, knowingly, or at all," concealed or suppressed evidence that would have been favorable to Mooney.

Three Attorneys Acting as counsel for Mooney will be Frank P. Walsh, New York, associated with the defense for many years; George Thomas Davis, San Francisco, and John F. Finerty, Washington, D. C., who entered the case only last year.

Representatives of State Attorney General U. S. Webb will oppose granting of the requested writ.

The present action involves a change of attitude by the state supreme court as the result of a United States supreme court decision denying Mooney a writ of habeas corpus but saying in effect that the California courts should free Mooney if he had been convicted on perjured testimony. First, the state high court had insisted it could not go outside of the record of Mooney's trial.

Past presidents of Sarah A. Rounds Tent No. 10, Daughters of Union Veterans, were luncheon guests Thursday at home of Minnie Cowan, 214 South Sycamore street. Mae Thomas acted as co-hostess at the luncheon which was served at small tables in the rear gardens.

Rosebuds were used to center the tables. A card from Nellie Parker and Lena Hewitt, who are attending the national G. A. R. and allied organizations' convention in Grand Rapids, Mich., was read.

Present were Carrie Smith, Floss La Bounty, Maude Sutton, Addie Gardner, Rowena Groul, Esther Gardner, Eva J. Bell, Edith Moore, the hostesses, and Lucila Hill, active president of the tent, and Addie Adams, sister of one of the hostesses.

Ethiopia Has 'Fighting Emperor'

HAILE SELASSIE, MAN OF MODERN IDEAS, HEADS OWN TROOPS

By CHARLES NORMAN

Fourth in a Series

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

A ruler who went up in the first airplane he ever saw, to the consternation of his entourage, sits on the traditional throne of the Queen of Sheba. He is Haile Selassie, a kindly, studious prince whose eyes in these troubled days are on his borders.

It was a warring emperor, with progressive ideas, who impressed Ethiopia indelibly on Europe's consciousness.

Menelik II, originally king of Shoa, subdued a number of neighboring tribes and races and in 1889 proclaimed himself emperor of Ethiopia. His armies defeated the Sudanese and the Italians, inflicting on the latter at Adowa a blow which still rankles.

It was his negotiations which led to the construction of the railroad from Djibouti to Addis Ababa, sole outlet to the sea of the black empire. Robert P. Skinner, U. S. commissioner at Marsa, in 1904, called Djibouti "the natural inlet and outlet of Abyssinian commerce."

Ras Tafari Takes Throne

Menelik's death in 1913 left the empire in the hands of a weakling boy-ruler, Lij Yasu, whose leanings toward the Moslems led him to be deposed in 1916. Thereupon, Zauditu, daughter of Menelik, became empress, ruling jointly with Ras Tafari, who was named Prince Regent and Heir Apparent.

Zauditu died in 1930 and Ras Tafari proclaimed himself emperor as Haile Selassie. He has been described as a brave man who keeps himself constantly in condition in order to be able to lead his troops in the field should war come.

He also is described as a man with a kindly smile, deeply studious, fluent in French and with a wide knowledge of Europe's history and the development of its countries. He is an indefatigable worker, whose hours are from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m.

The climate of his capital, Addis Ababa, is described as being nearly perfect—bright, cool because of its altitude and always fanned by breezes from the surrounding mountains.

Lakes abound, and because of one of them, Great Britain has a stake in Ethiopia.

It is Lake Tsana, 7,000 feet above sea level, an area of 50 square miles and a depth said to reach 600 feet.

Through this lake flows the principal river of Abyssinia, the Abai or Blue Nile, which joins the White Nile at Khartoum.

Britons cast apprehensive eyes toward Lake Tsana, principal fountainhead of the Egyptian Nile, whose fertile waters rule over the crops of that fertile basin.

England's Interest

If war comes, and the modern Roman legions move to attack Ethiopia, the fate of Lake Tsana will cast a shadow over one of the richest portions of Britain's African empire, the Sudan.

Talk of "sanctions" and economic boycotts now heard in England revolves in large part about this important lake. Equally important, and seemingly in the lap of the war god, is the effect of an Italian military campaign in Africa on Britain's black colonies.

The United States has signed three treaties with Addis Ababa. A commercial treaty, promulgated in 1914, was proclaimed in 1920, in English and Amharic, official tongue of Ethiopia. In 1929 two treaties, on arbitration and conciliation, were signed at Washington and Addis Ababa.

Ethiopia is also a signatory of the Briand-Kellogg peace pact, to which Italy's signature is likewise affixed.

D. A. V. AUXILIARY PLANS TO BEGIN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Preparatory to a membership campaign for Jack Fisher auxiliary of the D. A. V., team captains were appointed at a meeting of officers held Thursday night at the home of the president, Mrs. Dean Laub, 114 Owen drive. Mrs. R. Alexander were given the team headship.

Mrs. Harry S. Pickard, president of eighth district and member of the local auxiliary, is to preside at installation ceremonies Tuesday night, Sept. 17, in San Diego. On the same night, Riverside also will conduct rites. Local members have been invited to both affairs.

Present at the meeting Thursday were Mesdames John Kemper, Brown, Fred Bryan, Melvin Crawford, David R. Day, Harry Edwards, Ellis Gaddis, B. L. Chittenden, Mary Fisher and Miss Lydia Fisher.

AKER CIRCLE HAS ICE CREAM SOCIAL

With the weatherman cooperating by bringing out a full moon, the ice cream social of the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church held Thursday night on the lawn of the parsonage, at 912 Garfield, provided a full evening's entertainment for 90 persons. The Louise Aker circle was in charge of arrangements.

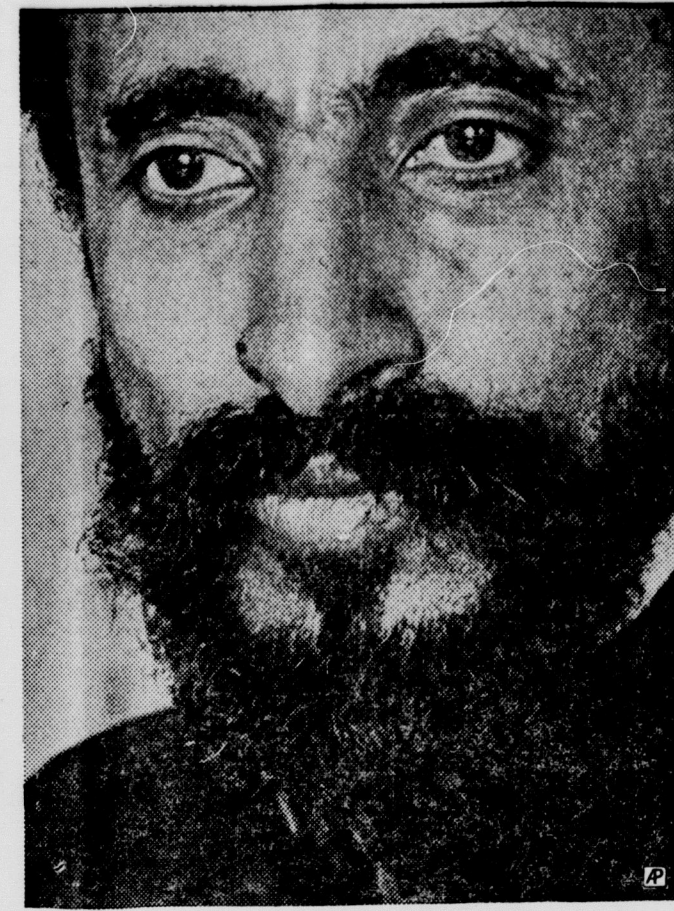

Hawaiian guitar numbers were played by a quartet composed of E. H. Layton, his son, Glenn, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill. Miss Linda Paul and Miss Rose Rogers gave a group of readings and the Rev. C. M. Aker and Mrs. Aker played harmonica duets.

A skit was presented by Miss Le Rene McMillan and Miss Mildred Goodwin. The evening closed with impersonations of the church members present by a large cast who used a school room for their setting.

FRANKLIN P. T. A. OFFICERS GATHER

Franklin Parent-Teacher association activities got underway Thursday when executives met at the home of Mrs. H. E. Belau, 1216 West Third street.

Present were Mrs. Leola Shetley, Mrs. Earl Patterson, Mrs. Jack Munson, Mrs. Ralph Miller, Mrs. Noah Wilson, Mrs. James Hird and Mrs. Lewis Harris.

Emperor Haile Selassie I, fighting ruler of Ethiopia, "whose eyes these troubled days are on his borders."

COUNTY'S FAIR HOSTESS SENDS SCORES HERE

Scores of individuals from far and near are passing through Orange county, homeward bound from San Diego's exposition, because of the diligent "promotion" of Miss Lolita Mead, Santa Ana girl who is Orange county's hostess at the fair.

In addition to Orange county visitors, interesting individuals to the fair whose paths will cross the county borders in many cases because of Miss Mead's courteous suggestions and guidance, are listed below.

Miss Mead wrote of them as follows: "A. B. Coates of 366 Bracken avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa., will definitely locate in Southern California somewhere and wished all the literature on the various localities in Orange county.

One from Palestine

"Dr. Ehabus Ostashinsky of Palestine will look up Valencia orange production in Orange county. He is in this country studying our methods of cultural care to better his orchard conditions in Palestine. I referred him to Harold Wahlberg, farm advisor.

"James Overall of Mt. Vernon, Mo., will visit Newport Beach. "Harris Omdott, Houston, Minn., will visit a packing house in Anaheim.

"William Mueller of 1029 G street, Fresno, interested in Santa Ana. "Ella McKean of Seattle, Wash., will visit a packing house in Anaheim.

"Dr. J. Ralph Peters and Mrs. Peters of Fremont, Ohio, very interested in orange groves, took literature on Orange county and plan on going through a packing house; first trip out here.

"Carl Gillespie, Harris, Tenn., will see orange groves on '101' highway.

French Visitors

"Andre Rolland of Paris, France, with his wife will visit orange belt and stop in Anaheim to take the 19-mile drive through the Valencia orange empire and visit a packing house.

"Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Potter, Seattle, Wash., will visit Anaheim and also will stop in Santa Ana to visit a friend and may stop to see packing house.

"W. L. Morris, Dallas, Texas, wants to buy some smudge pots for his Texas groves and will stop in Santa Ana to see if Harold Wahlberg has any idea and information on new types of smudge pots and smudging.

"W. Britton of Riverside wished he could buy land in Orange county so he could grow avocados.

Impressed By Fruit

"Mrs. W. O. Wise of Fayetteville, Ark., was impressed about our fruit grown in Orange county and will visit inland. Asked questions about mangos, sapotas and where could Wilson Wonder walnuts be purchased.

"Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wonders of Bellefontaine, Ohio, both have farms in Ohio and love California. They remarked about the beauty of our orange groves, how well kept they were, so much better than in Florida.

"Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gaede of Fredonia, Kan., knows Al Wilson of Garden Grove and by having the county directory here I was able to direct them to their relative's home. They took one of the Garden Grove chamber of commerce bulletins and were very thankful that the Orange county exhibit was so thoroughly equipped to be so helpful and accommodating in locating their 'Aunt Hattie.'

Praise County Exhibit

Ad. Hausmann and wife will take U. S. 101 highway home and stop in Santa Ana; they are from Muskogee, Okla.

"C. Winter of New York City wrote in my register on Monday evening: Orange county by far the best county exhibit. "William J. Wmth of Newark, N. Y., was pleased that the pack-

DICKIE RENAMED TO HEALTH JOB

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16. (AP)—Dr. Walter M. Dickie, of Berkeley, until 1930 state health officer through three administrations, today had been renamed to the post.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam, prior to his departure from San Diego, announced the appointment. Dr. Dickie succeeds Dr. J. D. Dunsmuir, former city health officer of Pasadena, who resigned after differences with the state medical board.

PAST OFFICERS TO TAKE STAR MEET

Past matrons and patrons of Hermosa chapter, O. E. S., will rule again tonight when they take the chairs at the Eastern Star meeting.

At 6:30 o'clock a pot-luck dinner will be served in the banquet room. Cards will follow the meeting. Those who have not been previously instructed as to menu are to bring potatoes, vegetables or apple pie, Mrs. J. F. Jacoby, worthy matron, said today.

Freddie Carson, who started out to see the world in his gas-driven wheel chair after his legs were cut off, is all through wandering. A traffic accident near Reno sent him back to Santa Ana, and now he's content to stay.

"From now on I'm just a home town boy," he remarked with a smile today. Freddie's crash, which sent him to a hospital for three weeks, drove the wanderlust out of his system, he said.

Last Christmas Freddie had his paralyzed legs cut off because they were in his way. As soon as he was able to get around, he filled up the gas tank on his new "buggy" and away he went. He was near Reno one evening early in August when his car was hit in the rear by an automobile driven by Joe Wilkie, Freddie recalled.

Freddie had just had his own lights inspected two miles back, but he was hit just the same. Finally he came home in his buggy, but it was riding in the baggage car of a train. After he reached Santa Ana, he did a lot of repair work on his car himself. Now that he's here to stay, Freddie is looking around for a small business to get into. He'll take short trips about the county—but no more long jaunts like the last one, he said.

BATTLE OVER MEAT COSTS NEARS END

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—A fight between Secretary Wallace and meat packing concerns moved a step nearer a decision today.

Government officials looked for a wind-up before nightfall of oral arguments centering on Secretary Wallace's formal complaint, made in 1934, that 10 major packing companies combined to control retail meat prices from 1927 to 1933.

Before the final arguments opened, Edwin C. Andrews, president of the Jacob Dold Packing company, one of the concerns involved, objected that Secretary Wallace "is both plaintiff and judge in the case." He referred to the fact that Secretary Wallace is presiding at the hearings after issuing the formal complaint.

Officials said that if Secretary Wallace adjudged the companies guilty of monopoly, he could issue an order directing them to desist. The fight then could be carried to the courts.

W. C. T. U. DIRECTION TO GO UNDER FOUR VICE PRESIDENTS

Innovating a new set-up, W. C. T. U., members at a meeting Friday in the Y. W. C. A., rooms decided to have four vice presidents who would rotate in taking charge of meetings instead of a president for the coming year.

Mrs. Amy Evans, who had accepted the temporary presidency, and Mrs. J. H. Nicholson, temporary vice president, consented to join the group, including Miss Sedalia Cubbison and Miss Louise Brokaw.

Appointment of directors for the coming year including the following selections: Mrs. Jean Adamson, child welfare; Miss Esther Hennickson, Christian citizenship; Mrs. Mellie Evans, evangelist; Miss Louise Brokaw, exhibits and fairs; Mrs. Louise Satterwhite, flower mission and relief; Mrs. Theo. Winbigler, Frances Willard, memorial; Miss Emily Cox, health; Mrs. Minnie Holmes, international relations; Miss Sedalia Cubbison, legislation; Mrs. C. D. Hicks, medal contests; Mrs. Clara M. Coleman, medical temperance and motion pictures; Mrs. Nora Davies, non-alcohol fruit products; Mrs. T. L. Warren, publicity; Mrs. Russell Lutes, religious education and Sunday schools; Mrs. Milford Tibball, temperance and missions; Mrs. Charles C. Cozad, Union Signal; Mrs. Jesse Albright, chorister; Mrs. N. H. Leonard, and Mrs. W. L. Vose, literature boxes.

DANGER! BLACK CAT, WHITE FEET SOUGHT BY GROUP

A sign saying "Danger Ahead!", a black cat with white paws, and the signature of the Newport-Balboa harbor master were eagerly sought last night by members of a scavenger hunt given for the Orange avenue Christian church Christmas Endeavor.

Joy Lee Henderson and Warren Bramley wrote the rhymed clues. The crowd started from the Henderson home, 726 South Birch street, and wound up at Bob's cafe where, since everyone found an item, the food was "Dutch treat."

Also on the hunt were Vivienne and Ruth Switzer, Joe Dehner, Juanita Patten, Harold Ames, Fern Weltz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan, Kenneth Morgan, Marjorie Hoff, Alice Whitten, Kenneth Oliphant, Helen Holmes, Winifred Crist, Bernice Henderson and the Rev. John T. Stivers.

HUGHES' NEW SPEED MARK ACCEPTED

Record Made Here Gets Approval From World Body in Paris

Speedster Howard Hughes' land plane mark of 351.79 miles per hour, set over a course near Santa Ana early last Friday morning, now has the world-wide recognition the multi-millionaire wanted. Therefore Hughes has put his $120,000 silver racer in "retirement" until his new record is cracked.

The International Aeronautic federation in Paris has accepted his blazing flight as worthy of official recognition.

Dispatches from Paris said he would be credited with 351.79 miles an hour. The record will be written into the books as soon as the United States Aeronautics association forwards the official documents.

"I don't plan any further tests with the ship," Mr. Hughes said in Los Angeles yesterday. "There's no particular reason for them, unless someone betters the record, so why the unnecessary chances?"

The $125,000 ship, built for possible purchase by the war department, was slightly damaged when Hughes set it down in a beet field in a forced landing during his speed flight. The main damage was to the propeller.

"I know, however," Mr. Hughes declared, "that the ship will do 370 miles an hour with its 1000-horsepower motor turned wide open. You see, I was only using 900 horsepower in those four runs that gave me the record. I didn't want to extend the motor to the limit until I was sure I had that."

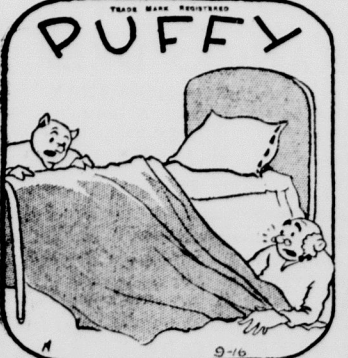

WOMEN 'CHEST' HEADS CALLED

Colonels and battalion majors of the six women's divisions in the Community Chest residential section are scheduled to meet at the campaign headquarters on North Sycamore street next Thursday morning, Mrs. M. B. Wellington, general chairman, said today.

With the objective of organizing 400 women to call upon every home in Santa Ana, to explain work of private social agencies in the Chest group, the colonels of the division met last Thursday morning for their first instruction meeting.

"The Chest campaign this year is different than in previous efforts and it is essential that every citizen understand the needs now existing in our city for more adequate support of those agencies that help with the solution of social problems and maladjustments not provided for through governmental agencies," said Mrs. Wellington.

Division colonels working with Mrs. Wellington are Mrs. Arthur Eklund, Mrs. A. G. Flag, Mrs. John D. Ball, Mrs. A. W. Ruten, Mrs. E. D. White and Lena M. Thomas. Each of the colonels will have four majors, each major will have four captains and the captains will have as many lieutenants as necessary to reach every home in the city.

Orange Park Expected to Take Its Place as County Beauty Spot by Next Year

(This is the last of a series of articles having to do with the development of Orange's system of parks, potential beauty spots and recreational institutions of Southern California. The series is intended to be informative to those cities which do not enjoy park facilities. Santa Ana is listed in the latter classification.)

By ROCH BRADSHAW

By next summer the Orange city park should be ready to take its place among other parks of Orange county as one of the major recreation and beauty spots of this region. The facilities are practically all there ready. Only a few additions, coupled with completion of the landscaping program, remain to be made to make the park complete.

One of the major projects to which the city is looking forward is the building of a bath house at the plunge and the opening of the swimming pool. The pool itself is complete, with an attractive wall on three sides. The bath house is to be built on the fourth or north side. With the coming of warm weather next summer it is hoped that this structure will be complete, that the plunge will be filled with water and that it will become a mecca for swimmers.

The bath house is part of a project which has been submitted to the Works Progress administration with the hope that the federal government will assist in its construction, as the State Emergency Relief administration has aided in bringing the park to its present status.

The Orange park is located on the northern side of the Santiago creek, just east of the Glassell

CLIPPER SHIP WILL MAKE GUAM TRIP

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—The Pan-American clipper will begin a 6600-mile experimental flight to Guam Sept. 28, Pan-American Airways announced today.

Requests of "first flight" mail collectors brought an authorization for the clipper to carry special envelope mail. To allow collectors to get their covers to San Francisco, the flight was delayed. It had been scheduled to start today.

The company said the 13,200-mile round trip flight may be the final engineering and exploratory test before the first scheduled transport run is made over the complete California-to-China route, preparatory to the opening of regular service.

'SUBSTANCE' TOPIC AT SCIENCE CHURCH

"Ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance."

These words from the epistle to the Hebrews were the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. One of the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon presented these verses from the Psalms: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God."

The Lesson-Sermon included also these statements from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit is the only substance, the invisible and indivisible infinite God. Things spiritual and eternal are substantial. Things material and temporal are insubstantial."

FHA HOUSES MUST BAR FIRE HAZARDS

A house financed with a Federal Housing administration insured mortgage must conform to standards which eliminate fire hazards resulting from faulty construction, it was explained today by Mrs. Zilda Oxarant, supervisor of the better housing office here.

Mrs. Oxarant called attention to this condition in view of the approach of national fire prevention week, which will be observed Oct. 6 to 12.

"The importance of modernization of homes and business properties and high standards of new home construction is obvious in eliminating fire hazards," she said.

If You'd Wed on $75 a Month, Here's a Budget To Do It By

Should a man marry on $75 a month? No, say the economists. Yes, say some of those who have. How? asks a third group. The Journal would like to know, too. So it assigned Virginia Smith, Journal staff writer, to gather and set down varying opinions of Santa Anans. They will be presented in a series of articles of which this is the fourth.

By VIRGINIA SMITH

TRYING to make two and two equal five has been the battlefield for many a household wrangle. A young bride ought to have a new spring hat and the head of the house deserves his supply of shaving cream.

Keeping up with the Joneses is a difficult matter on $75 a month, but Mrs. Margaret Lackland, home service director of the Southern Counties Gas company, has suggested a general budget, which would allow a couple to be fairly comfortable.

"Naturally, this appropriation of funds wouldn't be universally acceptable," Mrs. Lackland said. "But it could be used as a working basis, I believe, for most couples, and adjustments made from it."

Rising rent prices throughout the city led her to feel that the couple would have to pay at least $18 for a furnished apartment. Three dollars for utilities would bring the amount to $21.

To provide for nourishing food, even though plain, Mrs. Lackland set aside a monthly sum of $20.

"This would mean careful marketing on the girl's part and wouldn't allow for much luxury," Mrs. Lackland said, "but they could keep well on it."

Provided they both had a small wardrobe on which to start, they could probably find the suggested schedule adequate.

"What the man would depend upon the kind of work he did, Mrs. Lackland reminded. Money was allotted for a suit a year at $30, a dozen pairs of socks at an average of 25 cents each, two pairs of shoes at $5 each, six pairs of shorts and vests at a total cost of $4, a dozen shirts at $1 each, and two ties at 50 cents each. Twice a month he could pocket his 50 cents for a trip to the barber shop. His monthly appropriation would be $6.

Dame Fashion couldn't have too much effect on what the girl could have, the home service director felt. She could be modish but her clothes would have to be chosen with an eye to practicality. She would have to know how to sew.

Five house dresses could easily be made at home for $1 each. By wearing mended hose or none at all around the house, she could manage with eight pairs of silk hose at 75 cents a pair. Enough inexpensive lingerie for the year was budgeted on current prices at $9. A skirt with sweaters and blouses could be purchased for $10, a winter frock and two summer dresses each at that price. Three pairs of shoes at $5 a pair were included, and $5 allotted for two hats. For her hair, which the modern "Missus" knows is all important, she was granted $7 for two permanents and $4 a year for occasional trips to the beauty parlor. Home shampoos and some home waving would be necessary, Mrs. Lackland feels. One coat was allowed at $15, and $2 set aside for cosmetics. Her total expense would be $108, or a monthly average of $9.

Can't Be Sick

Medicines, shaving creams, hair lotions and other minor incidentals were given $1 a month.

Assuming the husband needed a car for work, Mrs. Lackland granted $10 a month for transportation and repairs. For entertainment, $3 a month was provided. Although 7 per cent of every salary should be saved, Mrs. Lackland thought the theory would be impractical in this case, but did put $3 a month aside for insurance and $2 for savings.

So the budget stands: rent and utilities, $21; food, $20; husband's clothes, $6; wife's clothes, $9; medicine, $1; transportation, $10; insurance, $3; savings, $2, and entertainment $3. Total $75.

"And I have an idea, they'll have to do some adding twice," Mrs. Lackland twinkled.

TRANSIENT AID ENDS SEPT. 20

Relief for transients will end here on September 20 as far as the State Emergency Relief administration is concerned. The deadline was announced by Terrence Halloran, SERA director, following a conference of SERA officials of the five southern counties, held in the courthouse here.

Orange county will not be greatly affected by the ultimatum, Mr. Halloran said, as there are but 35 transient cases on SERA rolls. In San Bernardino county, however, there are 600 men in a transient camp who will be affected by the order, Mr. Halloran said.

The shutdown on transient relief is in line with the administration policy of getting out of the direct relief business and turning it over to counties. A survey is now under way in California to determine the advisability of merging the SERA with the county welfare agencies.

Since the shutdown of SERA construction projects, the administrative and supervisory staffs of the SERA here have been reduced. Practically all of those who have been dropped since August 22 and 14 or 15 more are to be released. The total number of these workers has been cut from 226 to 136.

JOBS OPEN FOR COUNTY MEN

Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton have been asked to supply additional workers for the Metropolitan aqueduct, Charles M. Fallert, head of the National Reemployment Service here, said today.

These three cities are in the Metropolitan Water district and therefore are entitled to send workers to the aqueduct job.

Carpenters, cement finishers, welders and reinforcing iron workers are needed, said Mr. Fallert. To be eligible they must reside in one of the three cities of Orange county which are in the Metropolitan Water district. Those interested in securing this work will report today and tomorrow at Mr. Fallert's office on the second floor of the postoffice building.

VETERANS WHO BUY FARMS NOW WORK 'SUN TO SUN'

For those who like to work "from sun to sun" the back to the farm movement is all right, it was indicated today by the California veterans' welfare board after a survey into working conditions of 428 veterans who have purchased farms from the board.

"Returns from 28 counties compiled so far reveal that the veterans who operate farms purchase through this agency work 60 hours a week on the average, and more than 60 per cent of them work 12 months a year," said Thomas M. Foley, chairman of the board. In addition more than 60 per cent of them are forced to use extra help from which they must take a share of their earnings to pay wages, said Mr. Foley.

With money provided from past bond issues, the veterans' board has purchased four farms in Orange county.

FHA OFFICER HAS BIG BUSINESS DAY

The biggest business day ever experienced by William Manahan, of the Federal Housing administration at Los Angeles, occurred here Friday when 40 contractors, architects and others interested in building homes, conferred with him at the better housing office here. Practically all of those who came to the office were interested in new construction and took with them application forms for loans.

Mr. Manahan told Mrs. Zilda Oxarant, supervisor of the better housing project, that the day was the highest he ever had enjoyed in FHA business.

BOYS' LEADERS TO BE TRAINED

Opening of a training course for leaders of boys' groups was announced today by H. G. Nelson, chairman of the boys' work committee of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

The first of the sessions, which will last three weeks, will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock. Each program will open with a devotional period, followed by an address on leadership, and group studies on work for boys of different ages.

The Rev. Albert E. Kelly of the United Presbyterian church, and newly elected president of the Santa Ana Ministerial association, will conduct the devotional period Tuesday. Ralph Smedley, Y. M. C. A. secretary, will outline the needs and purposes of the course with a talk on "What Is Leadership?"

The groups will be led by persons experienced in the various departments of the work. R. H. McArthur will handle the leaders of boys under 12 years of age; Herbert Thomas will have the leaders of groups from 12 to 15, and D. H. Tibbals will head the group dealing with young men, under the Hi-Y or the Comrade classification.

The Rev. Harry Evan Owings, pastor of the First Baptist church, will preside, and Mrs. R. H. McArthur will speak on "Knowing the Boy," next Thursday evening.

All men and women interested in improving their qualifications for leadership in church schools or other group work are invited to take advantage of this course of training, Secretary Smedley said.

a police commissioner here, who died from a heart ailment at a national military home in Savelle, will be buried today. He was 74.

AFFAIR HERE TO BE NON-PARTISAN

Program Due Tomorrow In First Methodist Church at 7:30

Sponsored by the Young Democrats of Orange county, Santa Ana's observance of Constitution day will be held in the First Methodist church Tuesday night. The program will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Recently appointed to one of two new federal court benches in Southern California, Judge Leon R. Yankwich, Los Angeles, will be the principal speaker, talking on "The Constitution."

In sponsoring observance of the day, the Young Democrats are stressing that the affair is non-partisan and non-political.

Purpose Explained

"The purpose of the affair," said S. H. Long, general chairman in charge of arrangements, "is for the purpose of creating a greater respect for the constitution through a better understanding of one of the greatest documents ever written."

The program will be started with presentation of the colors and community singing of "Star Spangled Banner." Following the song the Rev. Everett Johnson, pastor of the United Brethren church of Santa Ana, will pronounce the invocation.

All patriotic organizations in the city will be represented and take part in the program. A speaker from each organization will speak briefly. Bert Castex, representing Santa Ana post of the American Legion, will talk on "What the Constitution Means to the American Legion."

Several Speakers

The speakers will be introduced by B. Z. McKinney, who will serve as master of ceremonies. Mr. McKinney will introduce J. F. Burke, who will speak briefly, presenting J. P. Baumgartner, president of the Commercial Bank. Mr. Baumgartner will present Judge Yankwich, the principal speaker.

Following the addresses, a bugler will sound " taps" and the colors will be retired.

In addition to the program of oratory, a musical program is being arranged featuring a soloist who will be announced later, said Mr. Long. Miss Ruth Armstrong will play a solo on the church organ and will accompany the soloist and the community singing.

HOOVER TO SPEAK AT FAIR TUESDAY
SAN DIEGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—Plans were completed today for the scheduled appearance here of former President Herbert Hoover in connection with a constitution day observance at the San Diego exposition tomorrow.

Mr. Hoover's speech is to be broadcast on a nation-wide radio hook-up (Columbia), starting at 11 a. m., Pacific standard time.

Rep. James M. Beck (R., Pa.) is also slated to speak.

CHILD HEALTH IS REVIEWED AT P. T. A.

Child health was the subject of a talk by Miss Anna Ekdahl, school nurse, Thursday when she addressed the Bolsa Parent-Teacher association at its first meeting at the school.

Mrs. Mignon Waters was awarded the room prize for having the largest attendance of mothers present at the meeting.

Oct. 11 was set as the date of a pot-luck supper when new members are urged to attend. Refreshments were served by a committee including Mrs. M. Waters, Mrs. Gladys Bratsch and Mrs. Lily Cosner.

Beta Sigma Phi Chapters of Southland Pay Honor to Miss Beulah May, Poet

Council Has Breakfast At Laguna

Sigma Chapter of S. A. Entertains 100 Guests In the Birds' Cafe

One hundred officers from various Southland chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, national literary sorority, assembled at the invitation of Santa Ana Sigma chapter for a council breakfast yesterday in Birds' Cafe, Laguna Beach, paid honor to Sigma chapter's sponsor, Miss Beulah May, poet, artist and sculptor.

In recognition of Miss May's volume of poems, "Buccaneer's Gold," published recently by the Santa Ana Junior College Fine Arts Press, the hostess chapter had arranged decorations in the buccaneer motif. Tawny marigolds spilled from copper bound chests and served as table centerpieces. Small treasure chests covered with Japanese wood veneer paper and strapped with bands of hammered copperfoil were given as favors. Sealed antique scrolls proved when unrolled to be copies of the sorority song.

Miss May Reads

The decorations made an impressive background for Miss May's reading of selected poems from her book, including "Buccaneer's Gold," "House at the End of the World," "Prayer for Little Beasts," "Javanese Night" and "The White Unicorn."

Miss Margaret Watt, council president of Mu chapter, Santa Monica, presided. "Song of Friendship" was led by Miss Marie Labrucherie, assisted at the piano by Miss Dorothy Ash Lindsey, Sigma chapter.

Mrs. Fred Gillenwaters, council sponsor of Upsilon chapter, Alhambra, read the invocation. Miss Lucile McDermott, Sigma president, welcomed the guests and introduced Miss Mary Louise Wallace of the hostess chapter, breakfast committee chairman.

Guests introduced Miss Elsie Siemsen, Sigma chapter, council treasurer. After the program, the council had its business session, which featured appointment of Miss Delphine Lopez, Sigma chapter corresponding secretary, as chairman of the annual sorority Christmas

Make a Slenderizing Frock With A "Flare" For Style

Any woman whose too-generously proportioned figure presents a problem of how to dress, will take special delight in this lovely afternoon frock which envelops her with soft folds, flares, and curved lines. The surplus closing is softened by a double jabot that spells concealment, flattery, and womanly charm. A curving seam rides over the hip and is lost in the rippling flare of the skirt. The saddle-shoulder line decreases shoulder breadth, and is an excellent one for the heavier figure to adopt. This frock demands the richness of crepe, satin or velvet. Complete Diagrammed MARIAN Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9598 may be ordered only in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires 4 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric.

Send 15 CENTS in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, the STYLE NUMBER and SIZE of each pattern.

The NEW MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN BOOK is ready now! 40 pages... color illustrations... dozens of easy-to-make pattern designs for every occasion and all your family, this whole fall and winter! Special slenderizing patterns, step-by-step sewing lessons, lovely gifts easy to make. Fabric and accessory news. Practical advice on choosing clothes. SEND FOR YOUR COPY NOW! PRICE OF BOOK 15 CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER, 25 CENTS.

Coeds Feted With Tea At El Dorado

A group of Stanford collegiennes were complimented prettily at a tea given Saturday afternoon in El Dorado rancho, home of Mrs. C. Stanley Chapman of Fullerton, by the Orange county Stanford Women's club.

Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Ross Shaffer and Miss Anita Sheppardson were in the receiving line. Assisting them in the hostessing were Mrs. Archibald M. Edwards and Mrs. Alice Whitaker of Fullerton, Mrs. Mabel Dixon of Anaheim, Mrs. J. Parley Smith, Miss Lella Watson, Miss Dorothea Smith and Miss Alverda West of Santa Ana, Miss Frances Shepherd of Yorba Linda and Mrs. Edna Dean Condon and Miss Margaret Swingle of Huntington Beach.

Trio Entertains

Honored guests included Misses Mary Tuthill, Pauline Wells, Mariana Baxter and Lillian Hurwitz, Santa Ana; Misses Virginia Flippin, Helen Volberding and Lois De Long, Orange; Miss Lorraine Miano, Fullerton, and Miss Ann Stanford, La Habra.

The Lyric String trio, including Miss Beatrice Granas at the piano, Miss Audrey Granas, violin, and Miss Anna May Archer, cello, played "None But the Lonely Heart" (Tschakovsky) and "Scherzo" (Mendelssohn) in the program hour.

Miss Sheppardson read Oscar Wilde's "Nightingale and the Rose." Miss Shepherd assisted her with a musical background.

Campus Colors Seen. Guests, who also included Mrs. R. G. Tuthill, Mrs. George Wells, Mrs. Baxter and Mrs. Stanford, mothers of several of the honorees, were then taken into the dining room of the home, where Mrs. Edwards and Miss Watson presided at either end of a long table. Stanford red and white shone bravely on the table, whose centerpiece was of gay red and white snapdragons, flanked at either side by candelabra holding red and white tapers. The silver candelabra harmonized with the silver tea and coffee services.

Miss Sheppardson, the guests went into the garden and seated themselves at small tables laid with blue-embroidered white linens and centered with blue pots holding bright red geraniums. Misses Helen Whitaker, Lucile Neiman, Bobby Stein and Bernadette Farley of Fullerton, and many hostess frocks, served on the lawn. The party was a traditional courtesy on the part of the Stanford women.

Mrs. Bennett Surprised At Party

Mrs. Forrest E. Bennett was pleasantly surprised yesterday afternoon with a layette shower which her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jack Rimel of Pasadena, and her mother, Mrs. A. W. Rimel of South Ross street, gave for her in her new home near Anaheim.

The guests met at the A. W. Rimel home and proceeded to the Bennett home, where they first chatted and inspected the new building, then served a delicious dessert course and presented Mrs. Bennett with a variety of pretty gifts.

Guest list for the party included Mesdames Palmer Stoddard, Kermit Maynard, George Berry, John Taylor, Robert Smith and Ernest Hill and Misses Lucille Howell, Elaine Farmer, Evelyn Hunt, Eunice Bright, Nancy Holt, Betty Vorce, Pauline Wells, Violet Johnson, Kathryn Sexton, Ruth Rimmel and Dorothy Dunbar, Santa Ana; Mrs. Vernon Valentine, Orange, and Mrs. Arthur Gillespie and June Rimel, Huntington Beach.

MISS LUCILE WADE IS HOSTESS AT SHOWER PARTY

Informal games were concluded with the serving of refreshments. Other present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paige, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bissitt, Maynard and Grace Paige and Frances Fogell, Fullerton; Mrs. G. T. Gibson, Redlands, and Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Killingbeck and sons, Glenn and Melvin, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Jenkins and daughter, Fern, and son, Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. E. Beardsley and daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Pearl Hardy, Mrs. Addie Gleason, Mrs. Margaret Beardsley, Mrs. F. L. Wade, daughter, Evelyn and son, Leonard, Mrs. G. L. Beardsley, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wade and sons, Ronald and Norman, Garden Grove.

DINNER PARTY BEING GIVEN FOR COLLEGE GROUP

Miss Louise Moulton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Moulton of El Toro, entertained Saturday evening for a group of Pomona college friends with a dinner dance at the Jonathan club in Los Angeles.

The party coincides with a dinner being given at the club for captains of Southland college football teams. Miss Moulton will return to Claremont next week and resume her studies at Pomona as a senior student.

SMALL TOWN LIFE CLEVERLY SHOWN IN 'DOC LINCOLN'

Small town life and the kindly ministrations of the leading character are cleverly portrayed in the current show, "Doc Lincoln," at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

While "Doc Lincoln" is attracting throngs to the playhouse, "The Tavern" is now under rehearsal in another part of the building, with a cast of more than 60 persons.

BARTON FLATS IS SETTING FOR WEEK-END PARTY

Barton Flats was the setting for a pleasantly informal week-end party in which a group of Santa Anans shared.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crowe and their daughter, Miss Mary Crowe, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Carlson and daughters, Misses Dorothy and Betty Carlson.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

Has the safety campaign waged among motorists in the past several months made you and your family any more careful about your driving?

Mrs. W. W. Kays: I don't drive a great deal, but I've always felt that keeping your mind on your driving solves the problem of safety to a major extent. We're a pretty careful family about driving, so the campaign hasn't affected us particularly.

Mrs. W. Oscar Wilson: I've always tried to drive carefully. However, I've been very appreciative of the recent trend toward making the laws plainer in the minds of motorists. I've become more careful lately, too, about driving in the right line of traffic and allowing enough room for other cars to pass without difficulty.

Mrs. Bob Flippin: We've brought up our children and tried ourselves to be careful about driving. In general, I'd say the safety campaign was very valuable, in that it tends to impress on the minds of careless motorists the importance of safe driving.

Mary Stoddard If John's Girl Is Attractive, Asks Reader, Why Can't She Get a Man of Her Own?

By MARY STODDARD

The wail "all the men you'd like to have are married," is often heard along the battlefield of the unclaimed blessings, the gals who don't get married. Some of them aren't worried about a man's wife, if he does have one, according to a recent letter from a middle-aged business man who's found love with a girl much his junior for whom he now wants to divorce his wife. Here's a letter from a reader who is contemptuous of the girl who stole the married man from his wife.

Dear Miss Stoddard: It sure makes me boil when I think of this middle-aged business man wanting to cast his wife off like an old shoe. I would venture to say to him: Your attraction for this other woman is purely physical. If you had her with you constantly without the spice of secretiveness, you would soon tire of the thing that is now holding you in bondage.

Would Your Wife Be Good? You say this girl is good and will do whatever you say. What if your wife had done as she has? Would you call her good? No, or any other woman who cultivates the friendship of a married man. If she is that kind of a human, don't flatter yourself that YOU can change her by marrying her. I asked a girl of 25 why young women run around with married men. She very brazenly told me: "Because it's safer and they spend more money on you."

Don't you think this girl has been putting on a bit of high pressure and in her subtle way is trying to convince you that you two must not go on living as you are? She must be getting a little older—you say you've been in love with her for eight years. Eight years does things to women, you know, and she would feel safer with you tied to her. She would be more certain of a permanent place to eat and sleep so by working on your honor, or duty, or what have you, she would convince you she has given the best of her young life to you, and that now you should marry her.

I'll bet she is getting worried. You don't love her, because your sense of honor or duty would not have kept you from divorcing your wife, seven or eight years ago, and I'll tell you why:

You Do Love Your Mate If, right down in your heart you hadn't loved and revered your wife, you would have left her long ago for this girl. It would not have taken you eight years. But on the other hand maybe "Miss Eight Years," in her younger days didn't work with the same hypnotic suggestion, for all she wanted then was your money, but now she feels herself slipping, and needs a husband.

I can't imagine your wife wanting to hold a man like you. She Eikes is heart-broken and probably is now, but don't kid yourself, she will wake up and find herself a beautiful, charming lady, free from a boor. There are real gentlemen who would be proud to have your wife, who would love and cherish her in her advancing years. Some day, you, when you lose your young and foolish complex and some of your peppy ideas, will have the same thing happen to you that your dear wife is having now.

If it hadn't been for the wife, you wouldn't have been such a howling successful business man. How much of the struggling, sacrificing heartaches did she have to contend with?

Just one thing more, and I hope you will think seriously of this: You seem to think this other woman is just about the finest. If she is so wonderful, why doesn't she get a single man or widower? I'll tell you why. They won't fall for her flattery. It takes something besides physical appeal to make a real wife for a gentleman of refinement? MRS. E. W.

SEPT. 20 MEETING PLANNED BY CLUB BOARD MEMBERS

Plans for the September 20 opening meeting of the Costa Mesa Friday Afternoon club in the clubhouse were outlined at the club executive board meeting late last week in the clubhouse.

Open house for members and guests is planned. A 12:30 o'clock luncheon will be served under supervision of Mrs. George Merrick, ways and means chairman, and her committee.

Mrs. James Tallman, Newport-451, is taking reservations. Mrs. Fred Timm, vice president and program chairman, and Mrs. Robert Erbe, chairman of music have arranged an interesting program, featuring Miss Martha Hasse, soprano, guest artist. Miss Marion Nelson of Newport Heights, pianist, will also be featured on the program. Readings will be given by Miss Jeannette Bodman of Newport Beach. Attractive new yearbooks will be ready for distribution to members at the meeting.

Board members present were: Mesdames J. O. Tallman, Fred Timm, George Ragan, F. E. Russell, S. A. Meyer, Henry Abrams, George Merrick, L. R. Daughenbaugh, Alex Olsen and C. A. Custer.

'If In Doubt'

E. A.: A formal dance automatically calls for a corsage. If you are in doubt as to the color of her frock, send gardenias. They are always safe.

Sigma Tau Psi Opens Rush Activities

Sigma Tau Psi sorority launched its rush activities for the new season with a smartly-appointed tea at which 25 guests were entertained yesterday afternoon in the garden of Miss Georgia Turner's home on Greenleaf street.

Striped and patterned beach umbrellas shaded coffee tables here and there in the garden. Mrs. Ed Sugden, in black velvet hostess gown, Mrs. Woodie Barnett in navy blue chiffon and Miss Betty Rowland in henna crepe, received the arriving guests.

From a tea table shining with silver services and flowers in the sorority's yellow and green colors, tea was served continuously throughout the afternoon.

Sorority members, each of whom wore an afternoon frock and gardenia corsage, were Mesdames Herbert Hill, Roy Ridden, Ray Kidder, Ray Buxton, Tommy Jentges, Roy Griset and Julia Hoyle and Misses Jean Rowland, Jane Hill, Eloise Wright, Mary Jane Sturgeon, Virginia Swigles, Harriett Chapin, Beth Dickinson, Marge Berkner, Alyce and Mary Emil Majors, Genevieve Glover and Georgia Turner.

BARTON FLATS CABIN IS SCENE OF WEEK-END PARTY

Off to the mountains for a gay week-end was the cry of a group of Santa Anans who left last Friday for Barton Flats and returned home late yesterday after a pleasant time of horseback riding, swimming and hiking.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Christian, whose cabin it was, had with them for the trip their son and daughter, Charles and Esther Belle, and Miss Barbara Vorce, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Carlson and daughters, Betty and Dorothy, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crowe and daughter, Mary, and Louis Remo.

HIGH NOON RITES IN SANTA BARBARA UNITE COUPLE

Miss Ruth Ann Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sharpless Walker of Santa Ana, was a lovely bride Saturday when at high noon in the gardens of Hotel El Encanto, Santa Barbara, she was married to Clyde Spears of Los Angeles. The Rev. Royal H. Balcom, Episcopal clergyman, officiated in the presence of 25 relatives and friends.

The wedding took place in Santa Barbara to enable the bride's great-aunt, Mrs. Harriet Bennett, who is 93, to attend.

Miss Walker wore a smart white wool crepe and satin frock, a white felt hat with satin bow, and white satin slippers. Her corsage was a spray of gardenias. Her engagement ring and wedding circlet were in shiny yellow gold.

Mrs. Walker was becomingly dressed in purple boucle suit and accessories and gardenia corsage. The bride's young sister, Muriel Jane Walker, wore a brown knit suit.

Cello and piano music preceded the ceremony. Afterward, a wedding breakfast was served in the hotel, and the bride cut her tiered cake which her mother had baked and which was decorated in fragrant white flowers.

Mrs. Spears wore a blue traveling suit with white accessories when she left with her husband and live in Hollywood. She is a former Santa Ana student, a graduate of U. S. C., a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, and an accomplished musician and teacher of piano. A number of parties followed her choice of a wedding date.

Mr. Spears is a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines, a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, and took postgraduate work last year at California Institute of Technology. He is employed as an engineer by a Large Los Angeles manufacturing concern.

Mr. and Mrs. Sharpless Walker and Muriel Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Walker and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ranney of Santa Ana were at the wedding.

BULL MARKET HALTED ON WALL ST.

Few Specialties Chalk Up Small Gains But Losses Are General

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—Profit taking stemmed the bullish stock market tide today and many of the recent leaders backed up fractions to a point or so.

Several specialties bucked the trend, but these were unable to get very far in the face of declining tendencies displayed elsewhere.

Brokerage analysts could find little in the news to help the bears and were inclined to view the reaction as a technical correction.

Here Are Leaders

Shares that held moderate advances included Warner Bros., Paramount second preferred, Loew's, International Nickel, Kennecott, Cerro de Pasco, United Aircraft, Boeing American, Can. Sugar, American Sugar, National Dairy and Consolidated Gas. Among the losers were American Telephone, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Auburn, Westinghouse, Western Union, Johns-Manville, Sears-Roebuck and Phillips Petroleum.

The Sears-Roebuck issue seemed to ignore the company's sales statement for the period of Aug. 14 to Sept. 10, showing a gain of 18.2 per cent over the same time last year.

Activity in various amusement issues reflected expanding box office business throughout the country. It was believed that profits of some of the moving picture chains would be the best in several years during the next few months.

With European war clouds growing darker, banking quarters expected the flight of capital to America would speed up appreciably.

COUNTY LOSES A GOOD MAN

ORANGE COUNTY is about to lose the services of a good man, District Attorney S. B. Kaufman. It is the old story of efficiency and ambition seeking greater opportunity to apply themselves. It happens very often. We try diligently to obtain capable men for public service and when we succeed we are forced to give them up because the same ability required to make a good public servant will receive greater financial reward in private endeavor.

Mr. Kaufman has set such a high standard in the district attorney's office that his successor, whoever he may be, will find a man's job cut out for himself. We wish him luck because he'll need it.

As for Mr. Kaufman and his future, there seems little but a brilliant and profitable career in store for him. The clients of the late Leonard Evans of Anaheim are fortunate to have him to carry on for them. So is the other member of the firm, Robbie Anderson. Southern California legal circles may feel honored to receive this new firm into their fellowship.

CONSTITUTION DAY

SEPTEMBER 17 is Constitution day. This year there will be plenty of excess oratory about that grand old document.

Some people think the constitution is a barrier to progress. Others look upon it as a bulwark against interference with human rights.

When a suggestion is made to change the constitution, it is well for the common people to ask: Who wants to change it? And why?

At present the answers to both these questions are: The politicians. Because they want more power.

Lately, there has been a consuming desire on the part of politicians to get law-making and law-enforcing powers into their hands. They don't want to be "hampered" by legislatures. They don't even want to be subservient to public opinion. Their attitude is that "Papa knows best" what is good for the country.

Maybe. But many have no doubts, today, that the old rule that the least government is the best government still holds good. All the constitutional changes now advocated are for the purpose of allowing MORE government, on top of what we already have. And we already have too much.

It is said by some people that the constitution is out-of-date. We know some people who think the Ten Commandments are, too.

WHAT! ANOTHER ONE?

A NEW YORK congressman says that President Roosevelt has approved his plan for having a secretary of arts and sciences in the cabinet.

The idea is to create a whole new department, dedicated in perpetuity to "fostering" science and art at public expense.

When you begin to realize that virtually everything can come under the head of "science" or "art"—or both—you begin to see what a grand money-spending department this would be and how it could spread its regulations over the life of everyone.

Take diaper folding, for example. It is both a science and an art. The department would put out illustrated booklets about it, eloquently contrasting the one-pin and two-pin methods; arguing whether the square or triangular diaper, was more artistic, or more scientific. Why! A couple of hundred thousand dollars could be spent right there.

Not only that, but the department could start regulating the shape of talcum cans, automobiles, bathing suits, waste baskets, flower vases, kitchen sinks, garbage cans, pocket combs, millinery, street cars, and chimneys. Some of these today are very inartistic; redesigning them would help us along toward the better, fuller life we've been promised for years.

A department of science and art certainly would be a body blow to individual ruggedness, or whatever it is the Republicans are so set on.

President Cardenas of Mexico issues a proclamation saying working women are to be allowed to vote at future elections. Next important thing will be to find out just what is a working woman.

MR. FARLEY AND 1936

POSTMASTER GENERAL FARLEY has issued a denial of published reports that he intends to resign in January to devote all his time to the Democratic national committee. It won't be necessary. Observers of political ingenuity and activity are convinced the postmaster general will be able to take care of both jobs. If he resigns it will be because the administration believes it to be a political expediency rather than a desirability, as the p. m. g. is regarded as the best strategist in the party.

That Roosevelt will be the choice for President on the Democratic side is admitted. That he will enter the second campaign with less public appeal than he did the first one is also admitted. That is why Farley is thus early laying the plans for the appearance of the President in various parts of the United States in the hope that he may be able to regain some of the admittedly lost prestige.

When the President starts his swing around the circle, or whether it is just a pendulum motion, the opposition is expected to send its most effective trailer-speaker to point out the inconsistencies of party and personal pledges as against administration performances. Take it in the large an exciting presidential campaign is in the offing.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

In the manner of Arnold Bennett's journal: I went for a walk before breakfast. Up Second avenue. Everything at loose ends. Like untidy messes in London. To me Geraghty's literary agent lives in Haunch of Venison Mews. Near Claridge's. In Soho there's a Thistle and Tick Mews. M. read in the home paper an item referring to a native as a Gallipot. I sought the word in the dictionary; i. e., a resin exuding from pine. Nippy with letters to editors. In a fan magazine someone called that roaring trademark screen lion "Big Carb."

I've seen no reviews whatever for the hair raising novel in years: "Everything Is Thunder." Twice it beaded perspiration. We were recalling modest folk such as H. P. Burton, editor, and Paul Muni, actor. The list is not long. I had fun today hippodroming a magazine piece on old fashioned Halloween. 2,200 words.

Don Marquis and Robert Cortes Holliday are essayists whose efforts are too pinchy. They can out-whimsy Barrie or Milne. Imagine Marquis miscast as a copy reader on the old Herald so long! Then Harris Merton Lyon in his last days writing ads for a spitting tobacco.

Howard Acton was telling of the Ohio manufacturer who had Big Ben pointed out to him crossing Waterloo bridge. "They got that from our alarm clocks," he sniffed. They'll probably hitch that gag onto Sam Goldwyn.

Most every adult has passed through that thrill of missing disaster by an eyelash. The other week Clare Dwiggins, the artist, was at his drawing-board in his Caroga lake camp up state during a storm. He'll never know why he jumped up and crossed the room to straighten a calendar on the wall. A blinding flash and lightning splintered his drawing-board. Opie Read, if memory serves, stooped to lace his shoes in an Ozark cabin one morning. A bullet zinged through the window and through the back of his chair. A hunter's stray shot. Brings up fatalism.

That postoffice, "New Deal," in Montana has a postmistress whose name is a lulu—Abbie McClammy. It recalls B. L. T.'s "Anna P. Danna of Great Falls, Montana." Too, he liked Phoebe B. Beebe. I can still muster a cheer for one of my fellows at a commercial school—Isken Kiskien. His father was a fezzed Turkish pawnbroker. We had a whack at his dad's narrative one evening, the world turned over and we lost our supper. Seems incredible Will Hogg has been gone five years.

One of the gazettes, The Times I think, had a Sunday spread about the composer of "Hot Time in the Old Town." Absorbing. I thought it a chanson of Spanish-American war days. Bands played it when soldiers entrained for Tampa. But the composer says he wrote it in 1885 while touring with McIntyre and Heath. He and McIntyre were strolling a southern city's suburb called "Old Town." The biggest building on the Main street suddenly reeled in flame against the evening sky. McIntyre observed: "There'll be a hot time in the old town tonight!" Et voila—a song was born. But little success until the 90's.

Somerset Maugham has the most pretentious villa at Cap Ferrat. This is the cape that forms the Monte Carlo harbor arm of Villefranche harbor—the place where Leopold of the Belgians had his vacation palace. Maugham's villa is modernly geometrical, of gleaming ivory stucco, teetering like a hut on a Pyrenean crag to a high point, with hanging gardens tumbling beautifully from it. It's The Thing on the Riviera to say carelessly: "As I was saying yesterday in Willie Maugham's swimming pool." Just as at Mrs. Beach the same people say in the same cosy voice: "... at Mrs. Stotesbury's." I am flattered to be asked by the Oklahoma governor and the town of Claremore the same day to serve on Will Rogers' memorial committees.

First tweak of fall in the air this evening. I found myself dreaming of the square at Santa Fe. Guitar music. Natives lolling on benches. Smoke from wood fires spuming straight up. Eagles wheeling at great heights. An Indian's calico pony picking his way along a lonely trail. Insects in the dry brown sage. The sun in a swollen red blot.

Building servants were holding after lunch convence today in the court. This phrase through the window: "The mountains of untold wealth and the valleys of want and despair." An English butler speaking. A Dobson gone communist!

FORTUNES DWINDLE

BUDAPEST, Sept. 15. (AP)—Hungary's pengoe millionaires, a rating equivalent to $300,000, are dwindling. A few years ago 25 of them were counted in Budapest's "noble" district. Today's official figures reveal only six and five of them are just barely in the class. The other is rated at 8,000,000 pengoes.

EVERYDAY MOVIES

"If I can't smoke, I like to chew gum. You gotta have somethin' to occupy your mind."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Arthur Mullen, ex-Democratic national committeeman from Nebraska, is asking an attorney fee of $160,000 from two power districts in Nebraska. He secured $18,400,000 of PWA money for power projects at Columbus and Gothenburg, Neb., and now claims reward for White House Secretary Louis Howe is devoting part of his convalescent strength to growing a moustache. It is a compromise between the Hitler toothbrush and the once popular handle-bar variety. The shooting of Huey Long illustrates the reason most public officials refuse to have bodyguards. It is recognized, even by secret service men who guard the President, that the best precautions are futile if the assailant is a fanatic ready to act the martyr. Every public official receives threatening letters. Some turn them over to the post-office department, most into the wastebasket. Senators Wagner and Copeland of New York are both assigned New York police, but neither makes use of this detail. Ex-Senator Tom Heflin of Alabama had a widely publicized assassination complex. Once he solemnly announced that Al Smith had sent him a violin filled with deadly germs trained to jump out when the senator drew a bow across the strings.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL SOME of the bright young New Deal lawyers are privately of the opinion that certain of the provisions of the social security act are unconstitutional and that the supreme court will hold them so. Big Jim Farley, a telephone addict, called his office in the capital every day while in Honolulu during his recent visit there. The gleed of meat packers and other food manufacturers over the failure of the $150,000,000 federal trade commission for a nationwide probe of food prices is premature. The administration, counting heavily on this investigation to supply it with campaign ammunition to support AAA processing taxes, is borrowing the needed funds from the primitive. A favorite recreation of General Hugh Johnson is to listen to phonographic reproductions of his speeches.

AUTO RECORD

TOTAL production up to Sept. 1 already assures the auto industry a banner year. Up to date 2,900,000 cars had rolled off the finishing floors, 800,000 more than the total output in 1934. Motor makers are estimating the year's total at 3,500,000. CCC Director Robert Fechner is the marathon letter dictator of the capital. At one sitting and using three stenographers, he will dictate more than a hundred letters without pause. Capt. Thomas Hay Nixon, who last year divorced a former Follie beauty and married for the third time, is one of the inventors of the army's famous new tank, the T-2. Despite its heavy battery of guns it can attain a speed of 70 miles an hour traveling solely on treads. Do not dissipate your energies fighting for a 30-hour week. Your objective should be an annual wage, and the way to get that is sharing profits and not wealth.

POLITICAL REPRISAL

THE SENATE lobby committee is investigating the alleged secret campaigns of utility interests to prevent the re-election of house members who fought for the holding company act. They have reports that appliance salesmen of the Texas Power and Light company, an Electric Bond and Share subsidiary, have been out to get Sam Rayburn, chairman of the interstate commerce committee and co-sponsor of the measure. Former Vice President Charles Dawes is about to enter the list of author-statemens. Next month will appear his book, "Notes as Vice President." The modernization of the kitchen is not the only White House refurbishing being done for the winter social season. The hangings and fixtures are being cleaned and polished, walls repainted and floors sandpapered and waxed. "Jeffy" O'Connor, bachelor controller of the currency, prides himself on three attributes: he does not drink, nor use tobacco in any form, and considers himself an accomplished dancer.

FORT HUEY LONG

AS DEEPLY shocked as any American over the death of Huey Long was the Paraguayan minister, Enrique Bordenave. "My country has lost a firm defender," the diplomat said. Long had championed the Paraguayan cause in the Chaco war, and they in turn had named a fort in his honor—Fort Huey Long. The forthcoming senate investigation of the crash that killed Senator Cutting is expected to bring out strained relations between Eugene Vidal, director of the bureau of air commerce, and Colonel J. Carroll Cone, assistant director. Representative Vito Marcantonio is trying out a novel idea. The young Progressive-Republican New Yorker is inviting all voters in his district to attend a rally, Sept. 20, for the purpose of "giving an account of my stewardship as your representative in congress last session." The Rural Electrification administration is rapidly building up one of the largest legal staffs in the government. On its payroll are several hundred lawyers, half of them transferred from the over-manned legal division of the NRA.

What Other Editors Say

THOSE HITCH-HIKERS

(Riverside Enterprise)

Wichita, Kansas, authorities recently arrested all the hitch-hikers they could find along the highways and fingerprinted them. The test revealed that two-fifths of them had criminal records.

There is no contention that two-fifths of all the hitch-hikers along the highways of the nation are criminals. But the findings by the Wichita authorities are sufficient to indicate there is an element of danger in responding to the requests of hitch-hikers. A large number of those who seek rides are undoubtedly innocent unfortunate. Nevertheless, automobile drivers risk their own safety when they permit unknown persons to ride with them.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

SEPT. 16, 1910

Mr. and Mrs. Mac O. Robbins entertained yesterday evening in honor of the birthday of Mrs. W. W. Crosier. Besides the hosts, covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Crozier and Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Garnett. Conversation pleasantly passed the evening.

The Farmers club will have its first meeting after the summer vacation tomorrow evening at the home of J. R. Wilson, 1907 North Main street. Everyone is invited.

Miss Rosa Boyd made a trip to Los Angeles today to visit her niece, Miss Vivian Clayton, who is ill in a sanitarium there.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. French and Miss Ethel French, who have been in Boston since their return from Europe, left for home yesterday. They will spend three weeks en route, stopping at different points along the way.

FULLERTON CITIZENS URGE THAT ACTIVE STEPS BE TAKEN FOR PROTECTION FROM FLOOD FULLERTON.—At a meeting of the Fullerton chamber of commerce held Wednesday night, committee members from Anaheim and Garden Grove were present to present the matter of protection from the river overflow during the winter months.

I don't see how the strongest republicans can beat the weakest democrat with nearly $5,000,000,000 at his disposal.—Ex-Senator Simeon D. Fess, Ohio.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

The Lion Roars and World Listens

The British lion roars a little at Geneva and the world tunes in. Small nations applaud, big nations look serious. Italy becomes a trifle worried. When the tough old king of the jungles lets out a real blast the international atmosphere will be cleared of its mist. A lightning flash, with its accompanying thunder, does much to dispel the murk of a summer night.

No country, however boastful, would dare to throw a real challenge at Britain. Germany never would have leaped in the World war had England's eventual position been clear. The Kaiser made the same tragic mistake which Napoleon made a hundred years before, assuming that the "nation of shopkeepers" would never accept the gauge of battle. Japan would not have followed her aggressive policy in Manchuria and China had she not felt morally sure that England was too much concerned elsewhere to interfere.

Hitler would not have defied the league and abrogated the Versailles treaty if England had not tacitly consented. Mussolini would not have threatened world peace if he had known that Britain was prepared to back up words with deeds.

"Muddling Through"

When Britain speaks her mind in forthright fashion the world considers it time to listen. The difficulty usually has been to get a definite commitment out of "the tight little island." The traditional British procedure is to avoid meeting an issue until face to face with it, letting circumstances and expediency dictate the path to be followed. So it has been in this whole Ethiopian matter. The British preferred a policy

Remarkable Remarks

The greatest default of religion in all times has been that while it generally seeks to cultivate a hatred of sin, it has rarely succeeded in separating hatred of sin from hatred of the sinner.—Tyler Dennett, president, Williams college.

Happiness can come from only one thing, peace of mind. And that comes from an equal opportunity to serve, to learn, and to acquire property.—Ex-Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

Either we preserve the United States as it was bequeathed to us and as we have known it or we depart for fantastic adventures on an unknown sea of guesswork.—Col. William J. Donovan of New York.

I love my wife! I can't go through with this!—Virgil F. Winslow, Los Angeles, in court where he was suing for divorce the wife to whom he had been married 35 years.

Those words "freedom" and "opportunity" do not mean a license to climb upward by pushing other people down.—President Roosevelt.

I don't see how the strongest republicans can beat the weakest democrat with nearly $5,000,000,000 at his disposal.—Ex-Senator Simeon D. Fess, Ohio.

NEWS AND NOTES OF SUMMER RESORTS

Hank McSilo, proprietor of the summer resort at Dusty Maples, has dropped his "rube" dialect. "Now that all the city boarders have gone back to town," Hank explains, "I no longer have to speak like a radio hillbilly. Dog-gone, if I don't get tired of talking with a 'hick' accent for the benefit of old ladies from the city who think it is just too quaint and rural for words."

University professor says colleges should admit new students on a basis of character, diligence, and promise. We still think, however, that the chief attribute of desirability for a new student is: Can he catch a forward pass?

SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Clarence Oleson strays by the office after Rodney Bacon's gang put on the illuminations, and sits by my side on some stranger's automobile running board, to discuss affairs. We start out with columnists, but decided the topic was too common, so we just point the old proboscis right into the air and get into the realer business. That was nearer Clarence's heart and purse. He felt sorry for me, and naturally that called for a sympathetic attitude on my part, so we decided that real estate was a most substantial investment. That it was there when you wanted to look at it, while a columnist wasn't there sometimes when you wanted to look at him, and sometimes when he was there you didn't care much to see him. The interview boiled down gave real estate the best of the controversy.

Hank Meehan rides. I walk. So as he goes whizzing by he yells, "Hello, Benito." Never mind, I know a fellow who isn't gone to Ethiopia and he flourishes a wicked razor.

Met a number of the "accessible students" last week-end. You know, the kind who are attending college or university near enough the home base so they can visit mother and dad, and help at the family table. Lot of food on there that isn't easily found outside of mother's kitchen. You know the old affectionate thermometer goes up a few points after you leave home and find out that you were getting along a lot better than you realized—or appreciated.

Elmer Heidt has on display at the Automobile Club of Southern California that human conservation sign, "Live and Let Live." When I challenge the value of the slogan he reaches for a blue pencil and crosses out the "live," starts to pull off his coat, and then it suddenly occurred to me that I had an appointment with a fellow about five blocks away.

Walter Fine, who has been here 50 years and successfully avoided me all that time, came in to tell me he expected to visit the Templeton sector and asked me what I knew about it. Now who sent that fellow to me? Don't the memory of a bad investment linger, just as well as the fragrance of a good cigar? Walter and Skirvin own some land in that part of the state. It may be good hay and almond land, but if they ever find oil we'll get our money back.

Wonder how much copy McIntyre could get out of our French street triangular park. Many of O. O.'s paragraphs come from strolling along. Just been thinking how long it would take him to get a column accumulation out of a visit to this miniature preserve. Out of an observation extending over a period of more than 30 years I have yet to recall the first time I ever encountered a human habitation. Perhaps I do not go by at the right time. At that it's a nice park, as far as it goes. Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange papers—please DO NOT copy.

The dad of the girl who married McAdoo wasn't in favor of the wedding. He said he didn't like the idea of daughter Doris only 28, marrying a man 71, and twice married before. Seems like Doris was holding out some of the information on pop, and he had to get his news from the papers. Well, that's what newspapers are for.

There is a blind alley between The Journal office and the J. P. Bumgarner building to the west, but it's a busy little half pint alley. And a horn sounds twice as loud as it does any other place in town.

Three cornered conference re: civic activity. One had passed through the veteran stage in community service and he was perfectly willing they should put a saddle on the other fellow. Another who had grown weary in supplying that talent and place for public promotion to supply funds for various emergencies had become convinced that the brevity of gratitude was too narrow to give any further time. The old philosopher said it was his experience that there were too many people who could think of too many things to do, who gave nothing to the project but conversation. They started something the other fellow had to finish. The sidelight that made my blood boil was when one of the trio related an incident about a young son, whose mother was working hard to keep the home fire burning, criticizing her because she could not spare enough money so he could go to the show and get dinner and a few extras. He was perfectly able to work. If I had adopted that attitude toward my mother I do not know what she would have done to me. But if she had failed to kick me into a garbage can I should have always thought she failed to inflict a just punishment. There is no substitute for good, hard, honest labor.
